Chancellor Stresemann Demands That Munich Authorities Withdraw State of Siege Immediately and Threatens to Call Into Use Force of the Reichswehr.

Correspondent Asserts Treaty of Versailles Is in Peril if Bavarian Nationalists Win in Test of Strength With the Republic.

The Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 28.—Premier Poincaré has taken note of the formal withdrawal by the German Government of the four orders respecting the state of siege in the Ruhr, in the decree issued yesterday in Bavaria. The French Government, however, is waiting now to see what action the German Government takes regarding the 50 or more other formal orders issued by that Government at the same subject.

The French Government remains at the attitude of awaiting acts by the German Government and developments resulting from these acts. The German Government, however, is merely a paper one, unaccompanied by definite results in the Ruhr. It will be regarded here as changing the situation very little.

WARNO DOCH-FLEUROT.
Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.
PARIS, Sept. 28.—Germany is now, Bavaria has broken from the Reich by declaring a separate state of siege, which overrides the power of the Reich as represented by the Berlin Government.

It is a trial of strength between the Berlin and Munich Governments. If Berlin wins, Germany carries out her capitation on passive resistance and reopens reparations negotiations with France. If Bavaria wins, the treaty of Versailles is the scrap heap and Germany in civil war.

Furious at the Munich Government for declaring a separate state of siege and appointing Dr. Gustav von Kahr dictator of Bavaria, without even informing Berlin, Chancellor Stresemann has sent a demand to Munich for von Kahr immediately to withdraw Bavaria's separate state of siege. Stresemann is determined to bring Bavaria promptly, and without delay, back into the Reich. He demands that the republic be restored to the individual states. The Chancellor was astonished at the Munich Government's attitude, which Premier Poincaré, in his speech, says that he protested against giving up passive resistance. He is convinced that the treaty of Versailles is being binding. Stresemann says von Kahr never mentioned what is contained in yesterday's proclamation from Munich. He has demanded that Munich withdraw it.

Trop Movement Threatened.—The Reich's power is practically in the hands of the republican dictator, President Ebert, Chancellor Stresemann, Gessler and Gen. von Seeckt commander of the Reichswehr. Sharp notice has been sent to Bavaria, Saxony and Thuringia and the Reichswehr will march if the authority of the Central Government is questioned. The Socialists demand that it is more likely to be against the Communists in Saxony and Thuringia than against the Bavarian nationalists. Another sign of the movement is the fact that the Bavarian Fascists, von Graefe, are searching for homes of reactionary leaders in the north. They lead in cooperation with Hitler, search for the Reichstag permanent committee, but without result.

Stresemann yesterday received the Bavarian nationalists. Another sign of the movement is the fact that the Bavarian Fascists, von Graefe, are searching for homes of reactionary leaders in the north. They lead in cooperation with Hitler, search for the Reichstag permanent committee, but without result.

While Chancellor Stresemann was waiting for the Bavarians to withdraw the republic's superior authority, von Kahr of Bavaria got into the hands of the French, Belgian and English envoys.

HENRY E. GRIESEDECK DIES
SUDDENLY OF APPOXY AT 40Vice President of Brewing Company at Office Yesterday.—Complained of Cold for Two Weeks.
Henry E. Griesedieck, 40 years old, vice president of the Griesedieck Bros. Brewery Co., died suddenly at 3:15 a. m. today at his home, 3250 Hawthorne place, following a stroke of apoplexy. He was at his desk yesterday in the brewery company office, and was quite jovial at the dinner table last night, although he had been complaining of a cold for two weeks.

His father, Henry Griesedieck Jr., died from a stroke of apoplexy at the Hawthorne place residence nine years ago. Henry E. Griesedieck resided with two of his brothers and a sister, Anton A. Robert J., and Frances Griesedieck. Two other brothers are Raymond B. and J. Edward. The brothers were associated in the brewery, with the exception of Robert J., who is head of the Griesedieck Tire Supply Co.

When Henry Griesedieck Jr. retired from business as head of the Independent Breweries Co., in 1911, he established his sons in the business as the Griesedieck Bros. Brewery Co., at Nineteenth street and Shenandoah avenue, where the plant still is.

TROPHY ENTRANT'S FLIGHT INDICATES
NEW SPEED MARKS

Lieut. Pearson Flies 30-Mile Course at 225-Miles-an-Hour Without Taxing Engine.

RAIN SINGLES OUT
FIELD FOR DOWNPOUR

Landing Ground, However, Dries Out Quickly; Orville Wright Coming to Witness Events.

Just when St. Louis Field, where the international air races open Monday, was about as level as a field could be made with months of grading, hauling, harrowing and rolling, dense clouds blew over the field, stopped there and opened their floods. For 20 minutes thereafter rain fell in torrents, sending several hundred workmen employed on the field to cowers. If it did not rain for any considerable distance in any direction from the field.

When the water ran off and the sun came out it was found that innumerable little gulleys had been created by the drainage, and so the workmen went at the job again. This was the third drenching rain the field has received in the last few months, and while some damage was done in each instance, the rains have really packed the new fills. But the test proved that the drainage facilities are all right, for the field dried out within a few hours under a fine sun yesterday.

By tonight the field will again be in fine condition for the races who expect to land at a speed of at least 75 miles an hour. It must be absolutely level, for the smallest gully might cause a smash-up at such high speed.

225 Miles an Hour.
That the pilots who are to take part in the Pulitzer Trophy race for speed planes Wednesday, have confidence in the field was shown yesterday when Lieut. Alexander Pearson of the army, took his Grumman biplane, and flew the 30-mile course with ease in eight minutes, unofficial, an average speed of 225 miles an hour, making a beautiful landing. It was the first trial spin of a Pulitzer Trophy entry.

Pearson's trial trip, according to flying men, indicates that new speed marks likely will be established. Additional hundreds of workmen are active in erecting various stands and necessary buildings within the seating enclosure, and the entire field swarms with activity of one kind or another, for the various entries to do their "stuff" every few minutes, practicing spins around the pylons or going about the course.

The sale of seats has taken on a brisk turn, requiring the employment of additional clerks at the ticket office on the mezzanine floor of the Arcade Building. As an instance of how the tickets are going, the North St. Louis Business Men's Association yesterday took additional blocks, bringing their total purchases to 488. The Kiwanis Club took 100, and several stores and business houses called for big blocks.

The Missouri Pacific and Frisco railroad companies have notified their employees that all who purchase tickets will be given a holiday to attend the races on the day for which their tickets are dated.

Schools Close Wednesday.
As Wednesday has been proclaimed a holiday by the Mayor and the public schools are to be closed, many industrial plants and business houses have made arrangements to close, some all day and others part of the day, to give the employees an opportunity to attend the races.

Celebrities in the world of aeronautics continue to arrive or announce their intention of coming to the races. Orville Wright, who, with his brother, Wilbur, made the first successful flight in an airplane, less than 20 years ago, yesterday telegraphed the Air Board that he and his sister, Katherine, would come to St. Louis Monday for the races. Wright is universally recognized as the inventor of practical heavier-than-air craft. He will take part in the discussions of aircraft problems that will come before the Aero Congress and Air Institute to be held in connection with the races.

Major-General Mason M. Paulick, Chief of the Army Air Service, has arrived, and Rear-Admiral Moffett, Chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, is expected any day. Col. Dwight F. Davis, Assistant Secretary of War, will come as a special representative of President Coolidge, and Col. Paul Henderson, Second Assistant Postmaster-General, will be here in behalf of the Air Mail Service.

Maj. John A. Paegle, Com.

SANTO DOMINGO
FLYERS ARRIVE AT
ST. LOUIS FIELD

Two Marine Pilots Covered 3300 Miles to Attend the Races Here.

A flight of approximately 3300 miles ended at St. Louis Field at Bridgeton at 11:45 a. m. today when Lieut. F. O. Rogers and H. D. Palmer of the Marine Corps landed in two large De Havilland airplanes from Santo Domingo. They left Santo Domingo Sept. 19.

They flew by way of Cuba, Florida, Bolling Field, Washington, McCook Field, Dayton, O., and Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill. They reached Rantoul yesterday. They will observe the international air races and expect to be ordered to return to Santo Domingo by way of the Pacific Coast and the Panama Canal. Each machine also carried a mechanic.

The flyers were guests at the City Club at luncheon soon after their arrival and said that, while their trip had required eight days, they could have made it in three days with better arrangements on the way for refueling.

STATE OPENS BIDS ON
2,210,910 BARRELS OF CEMENT

12 Proposals Include Three From Individuals Who Would Build Plants.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 28.—The State Highway Commission today is opening bids on 2,210,910 barrels of cement, its estimated requirements for the construction program for the years 1924-1928. The commission had received 12 bids, three from individuals who desired to build plants, in whole or in part, with funds provided by the State, with which to manufacture the required cement, and nine from companies already in operation and desiring to furnish cement.

The companies offering to sell cement to the State, are as follows: Atlas Portland Cement Co., Chicago; Alpha Portland Cement Co., St. Louis; Doves Portland Cement Co., Ash Grove Lime and Portland Cement Co., and the Lehigh Portland Cement Co., all of Kansas City; Monarch Portland Cement Co., St. Louis; Kan., and the Fredonia Portland Cement Co., Fredonia, Kan. W. J. Budd of Vancouver, B. C., desires to build plants in co-operation with the State. Whether any of the bids are acceptable will not be known until they are checked over by engineers of the commission.

REPORTED DEAD FOR 24 YEARS

California Woman Never Gave Up Hope That She Might Be Found Alive.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—The will of Mrs. Emma R. Singer, who died Sept. 11 at her home in South Pasadena, a suburb, has been filed for probate in the Los Angeles Superior Court, disclosing that she died half of her estate, valued at $300,000, in its entirety, to a daughter, Jennie Baker, who was reported "drowned" in Lake Geneva, near Chicago, 24 years ago.

The daughter disappeared while visiting at the lake with a party of friends and under circumstances which made it appear almost certain she had been drowned. But there were no witnesses and the body was not recovered. Mrs. Singer never lost hope that her daughter might be found. Forty-nine institutions and persons received bequests.

Instruction Provided for by State Law Relative to Observance of Frances Willard Day.

LIFE OF TEMPERANCE LEADER DISCUSSED

"Joke to Talk About Benefits to Children Who See Stills Bubbling at Home," Says One Teacher.

The required instruction as to the "benefits of prohibition" was omitted from the statutory observance of Frances Willard day in some of the public schools of St. Louis this morning.

Today, Sept. 28, is set apart by State law as Frances Willard day, in memory of the famous woman leader of the prohibition movement, who was for many years president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

"In every public school of the State of Missouri," section 11163 of the revised statutes provides, "one-quarter of the school day, on Sept. 28 or the school day nearest thereto, shall be set apart for instruction and appropriate exercise relative to the history and benefits of the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the United States. It shall be the duty of all school officers and teachers to comply with this provision."

At Franz Sigel School, a Post-Dispatch reporter visited the Franz Sigel School; Allen and McNeil avenues. This school is in a South Side section, where residents are not thoroughly "sold" on the "benefits of prohibition."

William C. Dyer, principal of the Sigel School, said: "The teachers here probably will not discuss prohibition in their talks to the children. One's attitude on this question is a matter of conscience, and I shall not dictate to the teachers just how they shall carry out this observance. I think most of the talks of teachers will be on the subject of temperance, and observance of the laws."

A teacher in the Sigel School, when asked as to her intended remarks to the children, said: "It would be a joke to talk about the benefits of prohibition to children who will see stills bubbling when they get home."

Does Not Believe in Prohibition. Another teacher said she did not believe in prohibition, and that she did not expect to make any special remarks whatever to the children of her room, as she had no definite orders from the principal to do so.

McKinley High School, Russell and Missouri avenues, also on the South Side, Principal Armand R. Miller said there would be no general assembly of the students, and that there would probably be no attempt to discuss the prohibition question. He said he would ask the teachers to speak to their pupils of the life of Miss Willard.

The students of Cleveland High School, Virginia avenue and Oakwood street, were addressed by Mrs. E. G. Cameron of the W. C. T. U., who spoke on the life of Miss Willard and in praise of her ideals. Her talk was well received.

J. Rush Powell, principal of Soldan High School, Union boulevard and Kensington avenue, addressed the students in general assembly on obedience to law. He did not discuss the prohibition question on his merits, or outline the benefits of prohibition.

At Rose Fanning School, in the neighborhood of Grand boulevard and Cherokee street, Principal E. J. E. P. RANCHO, PEKISKO, Alberta, said there would be a "general observance" of the occasion, and that talks would be made on prohibition, either for or against.

Notice of the occurrence of the anniversary and of the law's requirement as to its observance in the schools, was sent to the high school and grade school principals several days ago by the Superintendent of Schools. Sup. Maddox did not hesitate as to how they and the teachers should observe the occasion.

Fair and Cool Weather in Prospect for Next Week's Air Races

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The race weather in St. Louis, according to the present outlook, will be "fair and cool," the Weather Bureau said today. The prospect for tomorrow and Sunday is not so good. A disturbance over Kansas is moving northeast and is expected to produce unsettled conditions, probably with rain.

By Sunday night or even earlier, the bureau thinks, the disturbance will have passed, leaving clear weather for the air meet.

LEGISLATORS ASK COURT TO PASS ON RIGHT TO CONVENE

67 Members of Oklahoma House Begin Legal Fight After Walton Blocks Impeachment Session.

SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST MILITIAMEN

Representatives Disband Pending Outcome of Contest—Case May Be Taken to U. S. Supreme Court.

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Sept. 28.—A legal fight to determine whether they are empowered to hold a special session without a call from the Governor has been started by the 67 members of the lower house of the State Legislature who attempted to start an impeachment investigation under orders from Gov. Walton.

They applied to the District Court here yesterday for an injunction to restrain national guardsmen from interfering with meetings of the House. Agreeing to do so, the court granted the injunction, but the legislators are returning to their homes to await the outcome of the court fight. The case probably will be thrown out in the United States Supreme Court before it is finally settled, both sides agreed.

Hearing on the petition for injunction was set for next Tuesday morning.

Statement Issued.

Before the legislators disbanded they issued a statement addressed to the people of Oklahoma, explaining their attempt to convene and the resulting court action.

The injunction petition filed by the legislators declared that the action of Adjutant-General Markham in dispersing them when they gathered at the Capitol Wednesday and in continuing through force of arms to prevent an assembly of the House without authority of law, and was an invasion of the constitutional and civil rights of these plaintiffs.

"It is the duty, purpose and intention of these plaintiffs and each of them as such members of said House of Representatives peaceably to assemble and continue the said session of the House, but plaintiffs are unable to do so because the defendant (Adjutant-General Markham) has threatened, and still threatens, by force and use of armed soldiers under his command to continue to prevent an assembly of said House of Representatives and to prevent it from transacting any business and these plaintiffs from attending any session of said House, and unless restrained by the order of this honorable court, he will do so."

Denial of Offenses.

The legislators denied in the petition that they have been guilty of any offense against the laws of the State or the nation and disclaimed intention to commit any breaches of the peace.

"Under the Constitution and laws of the State of Oklahoma, the Governor and other elected officers are liable and subject to impeachment, and under the Constitution and laws of the State of Oklahoma it is the duty of the House of Representatives to present all impeachments to the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment, and to draw up, approve and present articles of impeachment, and to present the same before the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment, through a board of managers appointed by it," the petition continued.

It related that the House members were dispersed when they assembled "in good faith" to determine whether impeachable officers had been committed by any officers of the State subject to impeachment. The legislators set out that the session was called in the belief that "many of the guarantees of the Constitution of the State have been and are being abrogated by executive action, and the liberties of the citizens destroyed, and that numerous acts of the grossest corruption have been and are being committed."

Council in the Case.

The House members are represented by C. B. Stuart, J. F. Sharpe, John H. Miller, R. A. Singletary, W. B. Dwyer, and D. A. Richardson, Brigadier-General Charles E. McPherson of Durant, an attorney and State Senator, appeared in court in support of the House members.

WALTON SENDS MILITIAMEN TO CONTROL ANOTHER COUNTY

Governor Acts Following Appeal of Citizens That Authorities of Murray County Have Ignored Alleged Klan Outrages.

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Sept. 28.—More stringent military rule was imposed today upon another Oklahoma county, and warning was given by Gov. J. C. Walton that similar control is in store for other sections of "invisible government" in the State can be put down in no other way.

Upon the appeal of more than a score of residents of Sulphur, the Governor ordered military occupation of Murray County, where the civil authorities, some of whom are said to be controlled by the Ku Klux Klan, are charged with having neglected to prosecute persons responsible for numerous mob outrages.

Violence has resulted from the "deplorable conditions" existing in the county, the petitioners declared, in asking for the establishment of a military rule. Persons and property of those not members of the Ku Klux Klan "are not safe under the reign of Klan officers," the petitioners asserted.

Gov. Walton declared there will be no end to military rule in the county until mob violence and masked depredations cease. "Military rule is being tightened instead of loosened," he said in denying rumors that a modification of military regulations is in prospect.

Statement by Residents.

The statement of a Murray County delegation, which called upon the Governor at his residence, was made public by the executive as follows:

"The conditions in this county are in a deplorable condition and are becoming worse. One of our citizens recently was flogged and the officers are wholly incapable or are unwilling to find the guilty parties. Several of our citizens have received anonymous letters and have appealed to our officers, but the officers are doing nothing."

"A notice was mailed to Emmet Hendrix demanding that he leave the county within a week. He did not leave, and at the expiration of said week his home was burned. The officers have done nothing and since that time other threatening letters have been received by numerous citizens and no arrests have been made of the authors of said letters. We seriously contend that the civil authorities of this county are unwilling or unable to find the perpetrators of these outrages."

"A number of our citizens and the Governor of our State have been criminally libeled by the publication and distribution of an anonymous circular over our city and county between the hours of midnight and 2 a. m. Some of the parties that perpetrated this act are well known and confessed Ku Klux Klansmen. There is not the least possibility of bringing them to justice under the present reign of the Ku Klux Klan officers in this county."

Press Muzzled by Klan.

"The Sheriff of the county by behalf of Adjutant-General Markham."

In a formal statement addressed to the people of Oklahoma, the House members detailed their attempt to assemble and their action in taking the case to court.

"We, the members of the Legislature, propose and purpose to be governed by the laws of our country as enacted by the highest court of our State," the statement said. "We would not enter into conflict with the armed forces of this State and were forced to leave the Capitol or have innocent blood shed. From that time until now, we have not been permitted to enter Capitol or hold any session, and have been followed and guarded by alleged officers and gunmen, and by military officers under the direction of Gov. Walton."

"We have assembled because the charges of corruption and law violation against officers of this State should be investigated, and if the charges are found to be true, impeachment charges should be filed."

"We attempted, as representatives, to meet, imbued with the hope of clarifying conditions existing in the State, determine the truth or falsity of all the charges against certain State officials, to the end that peace, harmony and tranquility might obtain again in this free state."

"It is our purpose and shall be our purpose, should the Supreme Court adjudge us the right to convene, to approach the investigation as legislators, in an unbiased and unprejudiced manner, and to fulfill the trust imposed on us when we were selected by the sovereign voters of Oklahoma to represent them in matters of this character."

"Each member signing the call feels he has done his full duty, and having implicit confidence in the courts of our State, holds himself in readiness to recede in case the holdings of the court justify."

Another Method Possible.

There is a possibility that a way will be opened to the House members for a meeting without awaiting the outcome of a long court fight.

A constitutional amendment to give them authority to meet without call by the Governor may be voted on at a special election Oct. 2. The election was declared valid by the State Supreme Court late yesterday, but there remain legal barriers to be cleared before the amendment affecting the House can take its place on the ballot with two other measures that have been approved by the Court.

An initiated petition providing for the amendment making it possible for a majority of the members of the Legislature to call a special session was filed with the Secretary of State today.

SEES VICTOR MILLER ABOUT BROCKMAN SUIT

Plaintiff in $800,000 Action Consults Predecessor of Police Head.

It was disclosed today, during taking of depositions in the $800,000 damage suit of Mrs. Maybelle Marshall against President Philip H. Brockman of the Police Board, that Victor Miller, former President of the board, concerning the suit.

Brockman succeeded Miller as President of the board when it removed Miller as President, following intemperate statements concerning the existence of an "invisible government" in the State.

Miller was "fired" from the board by Gov. Hyde for "official misconduct." Even before these events occurred in Miller's career on the board, he and Brockman were not in accord on police matters.

Tells of Meeting Miller.

The mention of Miller came in the deposition of Mrs. Marshall's sister, Mrs. Harry J. Wendland, of 2005 South Grand boulevard, who told of a visit to his office yesterday and of being introduced to Miller the day previously by her sister's attorney, Randolph Laughlin.

Questioned concerning what conversation she overheard in Miller's office, she answered that she preferred not to say, because it concerned the Federal charge of misuse of the mails in Nevada upon which her sister was arrested Monday.

"Who is furnishing the money to carry on the depositions in this case?" Brockman's attorney asked. Mrs. Wendland replied that she did not know.

Prompting a Witness.

When she was giving her testimony, Mrs. C. R. Campbell was requested to remove herself from her daughter's side and take a seat at a distance in another part of the room.

In giving the instruction, Commissioner Garesche said he had overheard Mrs. Campbell say to the witness, as question, was proposed, "You don't know."

Mrs. Wendland testified that detectives followed herself and her sister wherever they went during the summer. She said that on two occasions she saw Brockman's attorney, Otto Karbe, defendant with him in the present suit, following her sister.

She also said that last Tuesday a trunk in the basement of their home was broken open. She said this fact was not reported to the police, because "it was concluded that 'it would not do any good.'"

WOULD VOID $10,000 AWARD

A motion to set aside an allowance of $10,000 to Dr. William F. Kier, 3209 Lindell boulevard, from the $90,000 estate of George Wald, florist, was argued in Probate Court today. The motion was presented by five nephews and nieces of Wald, who are contesting his will.

Their attorney argued that the allowance was excessive and that Dr. Kier's bill was not itemized properly. They asked for an opportunity to be heard on the bill. Dr. Kier originally presented a claim for $20,000. This was reduced to $10,000 by the court. Judge Holtcamp said he would not set aside the order at this time, but that an opportunity would be granted for presentation of evidence to show that the claim was improper.

His only action toward the editor of the Sulphur Democrat, he said, was to request that his name be left out of the paper entirely.

STARTS TEXAS-PENNSYLVANIA FLIGHT FOR NON-STOP RECORD

Aviator Cramer Hopes to Excel "Gulf-to-Canada" Trip Made by Crocker.

By the Associated Press. HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 28.—Parker D. Cramer took off this morning at 5 o'clock beginning a flight from Ellington Field here to Bradford, Pa.

Cramer hopes to complete the 1744-mile trip in approximately 15 hours. He is attempting to break Scotty Crocker's record for a non-stop flight from the Gulf to Canada. Cramer had not been heard from at 10:30 o'clock.

After leaving Houston, he planned to fly over Monroe, La., pass south of Memphis, sail over Bowling Green, Ky., and strike Chillicothe and River Falls, Pa., and fly thence to his destination.

Cramer has attempted to make the trip several times before during the last month, but "hard luck" prevented him from getting out of the vicinity of Houston. Engine trouble, water in his gasoline, and failure of his pumps to function were the last troubles experienced by Cramer. Once he got away nicely, but something went wrong after he had taken the air and he was forced down near Crosby, breaking a propeller and throwing a tire.

If Cramer's flight is completed, it then "Scotty" Crocker's record-breaking Gulf-to-Canada flight will be broken. Bradford is 1744 miles from Houston, or about 300 miles farther than Crocker flew.

TRAIN PLUNGES INTO CREEK, BETWEEN 40 AND 100 DEAD

have been notified to be on the look-out for floating bodies or bodies washed ashore.

It is believed that it will be 24 hours or more before many bodies can be taken from the submerged cars because of high water.

Seven doctors from Casper dressed the injured of those cut by glass, but reported that there were none dangerously injured.

Dr. Dan J. McQuaid of Denver, who was a passenger in the Denver sleeping car, was the first to give news of the disaster, and he announced that, in his opinion at least, 100 lives were lost. Other survivors were of the same opinion, and the night Burlington dispatcher here, when told of McQuaid's statement, said that the "loss would be at least that."

Story Told by Survivor.

Henry Wyatt of Casper, who was a passenger in a Pullman car which plunged halfway into the river and remained standing on end, gave the following story of his experiences:

"I had just started for my berth from the smoking compartment in the front end of the car when the week occurred. The train seemed to slacken speed suddenly, and then the car I was in toppled over, the front part resting on the bed of the river and the rear pointed up in the air."

There was no scrambling or commotion, everybody just set to work opening the windows and getting out. A Pullman porter passed to me a rope with which he dragged me up on the bank and I counted six others besides myself who escaped."

According to previous reports, the smoker was crowded with men. The local ticket agent reported that he had sold 66 tickets from Casper on the train, which was made up here and bound for Denver.

Lloyd A. Jackson, an engineer, considers himself lucky. Yesterday he was in the Pullman car which was the last to be saved.

ABYSSINIA ADMITTED TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Loud Applause When Costumed Delegates Appear in Meeting at Geneva.

GENEVA, Sept. 28.—Ethiopia today was formally admitted to membership in the League of Nations, the Abyssinian empire having convinced the Powers of the league that she was done with slavery forever. When the names of the Ethiopian delegates were called, her representatives strode to their allotted places, picturesquely clad in costumes of rich and colorful materials. The applause revealed that which greeted Ireland when the sons of Erin were received into the family of nations.

afternoon he refused to answer the call by stating that he did not want to take his regular run out of Casper because of the heavy rainfall and dangerous condition of the railroad. As a result, Eugene Spangler, not the regular engineer, took out the Denver train.

GEN. PATRICK ARRIVES TO ATTEND AIR RACES

Chief of Army Service "We'll Do Our Best" in Pulitzer Trophy Contest.

Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, arrived here today for the International Air Races at St. Louis. He announced that the Army Air Service, would leave Denver Sunday and arrive at St. Louis that afternoon.

On his flight, he said, it would cover a number of cities, including Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Ind. He was not decided whether to appear at the meet some time Monday, or later.

Asked his opinion of the chances in the Pulitzer race, the chief of the Air Service, he smiled and said: "We'll do our best."

There were no new improvements of aircraft to be announced at the time, he said.

The General arrived by rail from Dayton, Ohio. His airplane, a beautiful special De Havilland, arrived yesterday in charge of a Lieutenant. Gen. Patrick plans to use it for a week-end flight to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., returning for the races.

"There's nothing for me to see now," the head of the army service declared. "I am here to see the St. Louis has to say."

At Dayton, on his way here, Gen. Patrick said "the round-the-world" program of the Air Service, which will be the big thing on the St. Louis races. "We are going through with it. Experiments are now being conducted to determine whether ships will be used in the flight and the pilots will be named later."

Gen. Patrick reported that Lieut. Clifford Nutt, who started across the Pacific to establish landing stations in the East and Near East, had held up temporarily the Philippines Islands by the Japanese earthquake.

Lieut. G. E. Crumrine of McCook Field and Lieut. Nutt were denied to make a survey of the route in June. The Dayton office has established a landing field in Greenland.

Gen. Patrick said that an attempt to break the record of 35:17:55 (set by Sadi Lecocq, France and recognized by the Ministry of Public Instruction there) had not been definitely decided on.

BURGERS GET $324 IN OFFICE AT SARAH AND DUNCAN STREETS

Securities and Movie Cameras and Films Not Touched—Other Thieves Have Work for Pains. Burglars obtained $324 in currency last night after opening two safes in the office of the National Film Publicity Corporation, Sarah street and Duncan avenue. The currency was obtained from one safe, which also contained notes and securities which were not disturbed. The other safe contained valuable motion picture cameras, lenses and films, none of which was taken.

Entrance to the office was gained by breaking the glass in the front door. E. S. Howe, 3123 Gurney avenue, president of the firm, said it did not carry burglar insurance. The burglary was discovered about 7 a. m. by a scrubwoman. No night watchman is maintained.

A pedestrian, passing the office of the St. Louis Heating Co., 2981 Elliot avenue, at 8:30 p. m. yesterday, noticed the safe open and the office in disorder. Policemen found the combination knocked from the safe. Officers of the company told police the burglars had obtained nothing of value and that no money was kept in the safe.

Tires Valued at $650 Stolen. Tires valued at $650 were stolen from the Harry Frank Tire Co., 3442 Lindell boulevard, some time prior to 11 o'clock last night, police learned when they found a rear door of the place open.

Trimmed Hats, $5 and $7

OUR collection of Hats at moderate prices is unusual in style and value appeal. Here are Hats for every occasion—dress Hats, sports Hats, large Hats, small Hats—in the new materials, with novel trimming features. Of particular interest is the large variety of Hats for misses.

Misses' Felt Hats, $1.95

Children's Hats

Dress Hats of velvet and duvetyne, in attractive models with tassel, fancy ribbon and quill trimmings, are priced at $5 to $10. For school, tams and hats of felt, broadcloth and velvet are shown in all colors with simple trimmings. Priced at 95c to $3.95 (Third Floor.)

The Misses' Store Presents APPAREL OF DISTINCTION

UPON the proper selection of her Apparel depends much of the success of the debutante's first season. That her equipment may be smartly authentic, we have assembled in the Misses' Store a complete assortment of distinctive Apparel for all occasions—formal, afternoon and daytime.

The Coats

Elaborate models, each a distinctive creation, are shown in the season's favored materials and colors. The long, straight lines with side fastening predominate. Roll collars and cuff sleeves, trimmed with luxurious furs, add a note of elegance to these handsome garments.

$125.00 to $295.00

A wide choice of styles and materials is offered at moderate prices. Sports Coats and fur-trimmed models appear in Bolivia, Lustrosa and Fashona, in youthful styles. Some achieve smartness without the use of fur, while others are trimmed with fox, Viatka squirrel, wolf or beaver.

$55.00 to $95.00

The Coats are in sizes 14 to 20 years.

The Dresses

THE new Evening Gowns are fascinating in their diversity of style and fabric. Gorgeous affairs of gold and silver metal cloth are modeled with youthful lines. Chiffons with lovely designs in velvet scattered over their surface, lace frocks, velvet models, with fur trimming or beaded motifs, appear in a profusion of colors. The price range is gratifyingly wide.

$65.00 to $295.00

Dresses for everyday wear, at college, on shopping tours, or for business, are shown in Poiret twill and Lornella. Coat styles predominate, in many variations in dark colors.

$25.00 to $75.00

The Dresses are in sizes 14 to 20 years.

(Third Floor.)

Smart Fall Blouses

At $10 and $12.50

OVERBLOUSES, with the smart frock effect that they lend to the skirt, are sponsored by fashion creators for another successful winter.

They come in the most attractive variations of style, material and color.

Russian Blouses with side trims are new and engaging. Slipovers are shown in square or round necks and with long or short sleeves.

Materials are crepe de chine, laces and satins. An all-over metal thread lace with chiffon lining is suitable for quite formal affairs. Velvets are also shown.

The colors are in great variety.

(Third Floor.)

$29.50

For Men of Every Build

The Suits—Include plenty of serge, lots of worsteds, chevrons, cassimeres—in fact, every good, serviceable material.

They are made in two or three button styles, in single and double breasted models—many with the swaggy, snappy cut that young fellows like—as many, also, in the more conservative lines. Suits for every man—whether you are tall or short, slim or average build. In all sizes 34 to 48.

Every Suit has two pairs of trousers.

The Overcoats—Big, roomy Overcoats with large convertible collars that you can turn up and keep warm in, no matter how blustery or cold the weather becomes. There isn't a cold, raw wind these Coats won't turn.

Not only serviceable, but mighty smart, too, for they are in the belt all-around style, with broad lapels and huge patch pockets that are so swaggy. Come in grays, tans and browns—the best colors for Overcoats. In all sizes: 34 to 48.

New Gabardines and Tweed Coats

The Coats for early Fall days and rainy weather. Smart belted style with patch or slash pockets and pinstriped or yoke backs. In all sizes, 34 to 48. $18.50

EARTHQUAKES BENEFIT TO JAPAN, AUTHOR ASSERTS

Munich U. Professor Says They Have Kept Nation From Becoming Inactive and Underdeveloped.

MUNICH, Sept. 25.—That Japan might have stagnated and degenerated into a nation of inactive and underdeveloped people had it not been for the earthquakes which have kept the Japanese islands stirred up and in a constant state of ferment is the opinion advanced by Karl Haushofer, professor of geography in Munich University, in a book which he has just issued through a Leipzig publisher on "Japan and Its Inhabitants."

Another beneficial effect of the earthquakes on Japan, which Prof. Haushofer discussed is that they have opened up countless medicinal springs. He says that 1100 of these springs opened by past quakes have been found to have great radio activity, and to be of even greater curative value than the famous Joachimstal and Brancott radio springs in Germany.

Prof. Haushofer's book enumerates 227 serious earthquakes which have taken place in Japan within the last 1500 years and shows that Tokyo and Yokohama are in an area which is especially subject to the peril. He points out that periods varying from 71 to 90 years have intervened between the serious vibrations of the earth in that area.

WOULD TAKE LIQUOR OUT OF DRUG STORES

Kansas City Druggist Suggests Federal Dispensaries to Handle It.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—"The greatest curse which the retail drug business of the country was putting whiskey and alcohol into their hands," G. Schmeider of Kansas City said the convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists here. Schmeider's statement was made in reply to one by Charles F. Mann of Detroit favoring tax-free alcohol.

"We can't afford to have tax-free alcohol in drug stores," Schmeider said. "The time is coming when you will be ashamed to say you are in the retail drug business. We must legislate liquor out of the drug business. It is a failure handled as it is. Liquor is going to be made and sold by bootleggers."

"We can go to the Government and suggest that it establish dispensaries all over the United States, to sell liquor at $2.50 or $3 a quart. The consumer will get good liquor and the bootlegger can't live. The Government will make its revenue and will cut down our taxes."

Describing conditions in Kansas City, Schmeider asserted that there were 400 drug stores and that there was only one rule, that a druggist must be a law-abiding citizen and run his drug store according to the laws of Missouri. "We were not able to find 75 of the 400 who were law-abiding citizens," he said.

Mann, in his address, which precipitated the discussion, said that he felt the drug trade of the country was committed to the high price of alcohol and that the average jobber and manufacturer likes the enormous tax placed upon it. He said the tax was about $4.40 per gallon for 100 per cent test.

He then declared himself in favor of tax-free alcohol. He said that it would enable druggists to make alcoholic preparations which they could not make because the cost was more than they could buy the finished product for from the manufacturer, who gets his alcohol tax free.

Said to Admit Part in Holdup.
Grady Steed, 25 years old, of 8711 Lucas avenue, a negro, arrested at 1:30 a. m. today by Patrolmen Brennan, admitted, Capt. Mathews reported, having participated in the holdup and robbery of Joseph Brimmer, 5631 Wells avenue, at Theresa and Lucas avenues at 11:50 p. m. A bank book and a check for $48, taken from Brimmer in the holdup, was found in Steed's pockets, Capt. Mathews reported. Steed said he had been induced by another negro to take part in the robbery. Steed admitted to the police, Capt.

Mathews reported, he had served a three-year sentence previous on a highway robbery charge.

GOVERNMENT'S MOTION DENIED

Rolling in Arkansas Court Affects Other War Time Suits.

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—Judge Jacob Trieber in United States District Court here has denied a motion of the United States Government asking modification of a recent order requiring the Government to file a bill of particulars in its suit for $3,000,000 against James Stewart Co. of New York, original contractor for the building of Camp Pike. Great importance is attached to the decision because of the bearing it may have on 11 similar suits against war time contractors totalling $15,000,000.

Judge Trieber ruled that the Government would not be required to fill a specific bill of each irregularity charged in the suit, but that the complaint must set out a general course of discrepancies charged by the Government in order to allow the defendant a basis on which to prepare its defense.

Methodist Quake Loss $390,000.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The known losses of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Japanese earthquake were raised to $390,000 when officials of the Board of Foreign Missions received a cable from Bishop Welch from Karuzawa, who reported losses on properties in Tokio and Yokohama at $640,000.

End Corns

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. Stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in clear liquid and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

MISSOURIAN FREED OF MURDER

Jefferson City Photographer Was Accused of Killing Doctor.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 28.—T. J. Simcoe, photographer, charged with the murder of Dr. O. E. Ames last January, was acquitted by the jury hearing the second trial of the case in the Circuit Court of Cole County. The jury was out four hours.

GIRL DRINKS POISON AND DIES

Miss Laverne Schneider, St. Charles, Left No Explanation.
Miss Laverne Schneider, 19 years old, died at her home in St. Charles early this morning an hour after she swallowed a quantity of poison. She was the daughter of Michael Schneider and lived at 100 South Main street, St. Charles.

Keeper of Many Animals Fined $200.

Mrs. Frances Wiesner, 3936 South Main street, was fined $200 in Police Court today for maintaining a nuisance by keeping six cows, a bull, two hogs, four or five goats and ducks and chickens in a pen 60 feet long and 30 feet wide in her yard. Mrs. Wiesner sells milk to neighbors. The Court gave five days' time to clean up the yard.

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, earache, neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate-acid, Salicylic acid.

Protection for Wrecked Ship.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The United States Attorney in Los Angeles has been asked by Lloyd's London agency here to proceed against the ship of armed intruders who are alleged to have taken possession of the wrecked steamer Cuba, on the rocks near Point Arguello. The agency said it believed that Government interference was necessary in order that legal claims should be preserved.

THROUGH STREET CARS TO ST. LOUIS FIELD

U. R. to Inaugurate Service Tomorrow and Continue It During Air Races.

Through cars from Union Market to St. Louis Field will be run by the United Railways Co., beginning tomorrow morning. Each through car will have a trailer attached, and they will be run at frequent intervals on the days of the international air meet, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The cars, marked "Direct to Flying Field," will run over the Wellston line, from the loop at Broadway, Morgan street and Franklin avenue, out Franklin and Easton avenues to Wellston, and from Wellston they will be routed over the St. Charles line and its Bridgeton branch to the field. The double-tracking of the Bridgeton branch has just been completed.

The regular 7-cent fare will be charged to Wellston, and from Wellston to the field and return, a round-trip ticket will be sold for 25 cents. This will make a total round-trip fare of not more than 32 cents between any part of the city and the flying field. Transfers from other lines will be good on the through cars to Wellston.

Running time between Broadway and the field will be 45 minutes or more. The through service will be maintained tomorrow and Sunday, when the field will be open to visitors, with an admission charge of 50 cents, or 25 cents for children. An aeronautical exhibition will be given on the two days.

K. P. MEETING SOUGHT FOR CITY

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A movement to make St. Louis host to the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the Missouri Grand Lodge and Illinois Grand Lodge of the order in 1926 was launched at the closing sessions of the Illinois Grand Lodge by Frank G. Smith of East St. Louis. A resolution supporting St. Louis for the biennial meeting was adopted for presentation to the Supreme Lodge, which meets next year in Toronto.

Under the plan, if accepted, the Supreme Lodge and the Missouri Grand Lodge would meet in St. Louis in August, 1926, and the Illinois Grand Lodge would meet in East St. Louis. Before final adjournment of the convention yesterday, the Illinois Grand Lodge voted to empower the Chicago to Springfield, where the Grand Lodge has arranged for the purchase of property. It was voted to hold the next annual Grand Lodge meeting at Peoria.

BOARD DISMISSES CHARGES AGAINST PATROLMAN GUENTHER

Action Taken After Hearing Before Commissioners—Two Other Police Officers Discharged From Force.

Charges against Patrolman Hermon Guenther of the Carr Street District, alleging unbecoming conduct, leaving the city without permission and neglect of duty, were dismissed after a hearing before the Police Board yesterday. The charges were said to have grown out of Guenther's friendship for Mrs. Pearl Irene Barnes, an East St. Louis woman, recently divorced, and were based on affidavits made by George Barnes, her former husband, and his two children. Guenther said he was friendly with Mrs. Barnes and that they contemplated marriage.

Two other patrolmen, William R. Myers of the traffic department and Charles A. Zeller of the Magnolia Avenue District, were dismissed from the force. Myers was charged with unbecoming conduct and making a false report on an alleged altercation with Everett Weeks, 2614 Dalton avenue, in a saloon at 2700 Lafayette avenue. Sept. 15, Zeller, charged with unbecoming conduct, caused his wife to be held in the observation ward at the city hospital for about 40 hours. The board contended he was unjustified in doing this.

Patrolmen Robert Hasson and Clyde Rawlings, charged with neglect of duty, were acquitted, after being reprimanded.

Three Convicts Killed in Explosion. By the Associated Press. CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 22.—Three convicts, one white, were killed yesterday by an explosion of dynamite at a quarry where rock was being blasted for road construction near Cornelius, this county. The white man killed was Hugh Jenkins, serving a five-year sentence for automobile theft.

WILSON LETTER NOT AID TO P SHIELDS AS

U. S. Senator Say Were Written for Purpose of Injuring With People of Tennessee

SYMPATHY FOR FORMER PRES

Challenges Anyone to Single Instance He Failed to Follow cratic Platform.

By the Associated Press. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 13.—Senator John K. Shields today released a statement in which he said that Mr. Wilson's letter to Messrs. Furlow and Messrs. Furlow recently published in newspapers, declared they "called for and published the sole purpose of the letter to the people of Tennessee." The Wilson letter contained the following:

"I regarded Mr. Shields' administration as one of the most trustworthy of my contemporaries," to which the Senator replied that "Mr. Wilson's letter was a declaration of war against the Democratic party and its principles." The Senator declared that he had not been a member of the party and discharged his duty as a Senator honestly and faithfully.

WILSON LETTERS NOT AID TO PARTY, SHIELDS ASSERTS

U. S. Senator Says They Were Written for the Sole Purpose of Injuring Him
With People of Tennessee.

SYMPATHY FOR THE FORMER PRESIDENT

Challenges Anyone to Point to Single Instance Where He Failed to Follow Democratic Platform.

By the Associated Press.
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 28.— Senator John K. Shields in a prepared statement released here in response to letters from former President Woodrow Wilson to Messrs. Furlow and Fultz, published in Tennessee newspapers, declared they were not sent for and published in the interests of the Democratic party, but for the sole purpose of injuring me with the people of Tennessee.

"The Wilson letters contained the insult," I regarded Mr. Shields during my addressation as one of the least worthy of my national supporters," to which the Senator made reply that "if Mr. Wilson's accusation of untrustworthiness means that I could not be elected to the distinction of my great official duties as Senator representing a great State, I am right. If he means that during this administration I did not support the principles of the Democratic party and discharged my duties as a Senator honestly and faithfully to the best of my ability, he is absolutely wrong."

Sympathy for Wilson.
Expressing profound sympathy for Mr. Wilson in his great and prolonged affliction, Senator Shields said "we cannot cherish resentment against anything he may say. He is immune from criticism." The Senator declared that he has been inspired by the fundamental principles embodied in constitutional government and those of the Democratic party which are always in accord with the Constitution, and a challenge is issued for any man to point a single instance in which he has failed to follow the Democratic platform.

"I supported all the great measures," he said, "which were enacted by Congress and approved by Mr. Wilson President. I supported all the great war measures which Mr. Wilson asked for the successful prosecution of the war." Senator Shields referred to his activity in behalf of the Overman bill giving the President absolute power over the administrative department in connection with quotations from records of his own and Senator McKellar.

Quotes Cummings Letter.
"When I was a candidate in 1918 for the Senate, although he had served years, did not challenge my honesty or oppose my election.
The majority of the press, all strong-pro-Wilson, warmly supported me and finally just before the election in November, 1918, Hon. Homer Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, a close personal friend of Mr. Wilson, writing Hon. Hill McAlister, chairman of the Democratic committee of Tennessee, said:
"Senator John K. Shields, your choice for United States Senator, is a man of constant and valuable service to the national administration. His wise counsel and his ability have been at the service of the Government at every stage of the national committee and the national administration who are in attitude to recognize and appreciate his value most fully, are exceedingly desirous that Senator Shields may be re-elected by both a majority and maximum majority."

The Senator asserts that the head front of his offending Mr. Wilson is found in his opposition to the composition that the United States Senator was a member of the League of Nations and that "we take a manful stand under the league for Armenia."
I opposed both of these measures and with all the vigor and ability I possessed voted against them. There were no platform declarations favoring these measures and I am proud to campaign pledges concerning the same.

Election of 1920 Cited.
"The people of the United States in 1920, by an unprecedented majority, rejected the League of Nations, the Democratic party in 1922 made it to make it an issue and won great victory. Present conditions Europe demonstrate the wisdom of our course in refusing to commit ourselves in the broils of Europe. Conditions are such that it is the duty of the Democratic administration for President administration and one of them has said that the people are not for it and it will not be an issue in 1924."

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE BARS BRIDGE DEBATE

Discussion of Bill to Repeal Condemnation Ordinance Fails to Materialize.

Discussion of a bill to repeal an ordinance, passed over the Mayor's veto and ordering condemnation procedure for the proposed northeast railroad approach to the Free Bridge, a bond issue project, was scheduled to come up in the session of the Citizens' Supervisory Committee yesterday afternoon, but was lost in the shuffle when members clashed over the approach itself.
Adjournment was taken immediately after the committee voted, 11 to 1, to sustain Vice Chairman Harry Scullin in ruling out of order an effort by Frank H. Gerhart to discuss the bridge question. Scullin was presiding in the absence of W. Frank Carter. Members said they might be able to consider approval of the repeal bill, now pending in the Board of Aldermen, at the next meeting.

Gerhart Denied Hearing.
Discussion of the approach has figured in almost every meeting of the committee since it began functioning last February, although members have declared they can take no action on it until plans and ordinances are submitted by the city engineers.
Gerhart persisted in an effort to read a statement intended to refute estimates of the cost of the approach and right of way, and to explain the purpose of the approach. Scullin objected, saying the Supervisory Committee had disapproved the action of the Board of Aldermen in passing the condemnation bill before it was approved by the committee, and had asked the Mayor to veto the bill on that ground, and so the question of cost did not enter.
"Everything is the bridge," Scullin claimed. "We have something before us besides the bridge. Everything we have the bridge. If you gentlemen want to hear this, all right, I think it is out of order and I object."

Urges Referendum if Necessary.
The meeting was the first held by the committee since the summer vacation, and the bridge question loomed in the first order of business when a letter from the Municipal Research Bureau was read. This letter called attention to the city administration's pledge that all expenditures in the $87,272,500 bond issue were to be supervised by the committee, and said the pledge had been ignored by the Aldermen in passing the condemnation bill. The letter urged the committee take steps to institute a referendum if the Aldermen did not repeal the measure.
Carl F. G. Meyer moved acceptance of the letter and appreciation of the bureau's report.

Gerhart rose to read his answer, declaring he had the opinion of four East St. Louisans that the land needed for the bridge approach would not cost more than $200,000 and denying a newspaper story that the land would cost nearly $5,000,000.
Objection was made that Gerhart's discussion was out of order. Scullin said he would not hear him until the proper time, and started to call a roll.

This is one of a series of 'intimate stories concerning President Coolidge, as related by his townsfolk in Northampton, Mass., where Coolidge still remains just "Cal."

MR. FARRELL was wiping off the bar, Mr. Farrell, proprietor and sole owner of the Elmwood Inn in Hadley. Mr. Farrell's hostelry was the hiding place of the residents who decreed the death of Charles
I. of England. It is supposed to have many mysterious secret caves beneath it.
"So it's Cal Coolidge that brings ye here again," he said, referring to Northampton, not to the Elmwood Inn. "Well, I know Cal well, ye might say, although I've never seen him. How do I know him? Sure nobody'd be counsel for a brewery in Springfield once, years ago? He was."
"But have ye heard the story about how he began a speech by talkin' about the frost on the pumpkins? Ye have. Well, no matter, I'll tell it to ye." He told it. Then he went on.
"Very religious feller, Cal," he said. "Goes to church as regular as the prohibition men come down to call on me. Doesn't belong to any church, they say. But he's religious. That's how a man ought to be these troublous times."
"Say, what do ye think about his letter to that old tad Lucey?
Cal's always been shrewd that way. He's got the Irish vote with him here solid and that way he'll get it all over the country. The Irish are that sentimental they'd vote for any man who'd tell them they're a great upstandin' race. An' why not? They are."

vote on Meyer's proposal. Gerhart insisted that he be heard and produced a large roll of blue prints.
Scullin told him he was out of order.
"You refuse it?" Gerhart asked.
"No," Scullin replied. "Don't gar-ble what I said. I told you I would receive it in the proper order and you understood me."
Eleven Against Gerhart.
Meyer's motion was passed with a chorus of ayes and Gerhart called for a roll call. The vote was 11 to 1, Gerhart dissenting.
Deputy Comptroller Gunn was called in to explain to the committee what steps would be necessary to get money to employ experts when needed. He said that under the charter this could be done only by ordinance, and suggested one be drafted to draw on a $10,000 item set aside in the budget for expert services on bond issue matters.
Gerhart said he had confidence in the city officials and did not think it necessary to go outside to get experts. Other members had advocated getting experts when necessary.
"I don't like this idea of Mr. Gerhart, to imbue the minds of the people with the idea that he is the only man on this committee with confidence in city officials," Scullin said.
"I, for one, have the utmost confidence in them."

Scullin declared the committee was appointed to watch the expenditures and that there would be times when experts would be needed. He said the committee "could hardly sit down and be advised by those whom we were set to watch."
Vesper Objects.
He turned to President Kinsey, of the Board of Public Service, and asked, "Do you consider it an insult to your department to be watched in this way?" Kinsey replied that the city departments welcomed being advised by any official or unofficial bodies. "The chief complaint of most city officials," he said, "is that they can't get people to watch them."

WHEAT GROWERS TELL COOLIDGE OF PLIGHT

Delegation Urges - President to Call Extra Session of Congress to Provide Relief.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The wheat-growing interests of the Central Northwest have laid their case directly before President Coolidge and other administration officials, with a request that Congress be called in special session to enact legislation to revive the United States Grain Corporation.
The President, together with Secretaries Wallace and Hoover and Managing Director Meyer of the War Finance Corporation, received the delegation of the grain growers, composed of a dozen bankers and farmers from the Minneapolis Federal Reserve District yesterday, but made no promises. Members of the delegation said that Mr. Coolidge showed them Mr. Coolidge's proposal with regard to the grain corporation, and also in their request for reduction in freight rates on wheat and flour, and they left the White House after an hour's conference pleased with the reception given their views.
Accompanied by Senator-elect Frazier and Representative Young of North Dakota, and Senator Norbeck and Representative Johnson of South Dakota, the delegation, composed of nine bankers and three farmers, went to the White House.
Statistics and detailed statements showing the plight of the farmers of the central Northwest, as the result of the low prices, were presented by spokesmen for the delegation, and then Mr. Coolidge began asking questions. Soon the President and the three farmers were involved in a detailed discussion of the whole problem.
The question of the Grain Corporation's revival was discussed. The delegation explained that it was not their idea to have the corporation fix prices, as it did during the war, but they desired to have a Government-controlled corporation, with a capital of $50,000,000, buy and sell wheat for export and also on the domestic market. The operation of such a corporation would in itself stabilize the price of wheat and put the price at a higher level than that for which the grain now is selling.
The reduction in freight rates was not gone into detail at the White House conference, but was taken up at a later meeting with Secretary Wallace. Such a reduction, amounting to 25 per cent, has been recommended by Wallace, who also has proposed the creation by the Government of an agricultural export commission with broad powers.

and the league had no political influence.
Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, declared American participation in the league "would have wholly prevented the strife, bitterness, confusion and turmoil which we are going on in Europe today."

gates to the Interparliamentary Con-

1923 INDUSTRY BEST IN EACH MONTH IN 5 YEARS

Business Generally Gains as Compared With July and Last Year.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Although production in basic industry declined slightly in August and early September, the output still is larger than a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board announces in a survey just completed. The lowering of the output has been due partly to an unusual seasonal trend, but the figures disclose that in every month this year production has been at a higher level than in any similar month of the previous five years.
Railroad freight shipments were larger in August than in any previous month on record. The board attributed this to seasonal increases in coal, agricultural products and miscellaneous merchandise. With the jump in freight movement, the board found that general wholesale trade mounted 12 per cent in August and early September over the previous month. It pointed out that this increase was much greater than usual at this season.

Store Sales Increase.
Sales of clothing, dry goods and shoes showed substantial gains in the period covered by the survey as compared with July, and also were larger than a year ago. Retail trade likewise increased in August over July and sales in all commodity lines were larger than in August, 1922. Reports from the larger department stores, covering all sections of the country, showed sales 12 per cent above last year's level.
After a decline during July and the first part of August, the volume of bank credits in use registered a seasonal increase during the last week of August and the first two weeks of September. Total loans and demand deposits of banks in the Federal Reserve System—reported from the principal cities—increased during recent weeks, reversing the trend of the preceding months.

Loans Larger.
Loans, chiefly for commercial and agricultural purposes, were larger by $122,000,000 and set a new record for the year. Investment holdings of these same banks, on the other hand, continued to decline, the survey indicated, and on Sept. 12 were lower than at any time since the middle of October, 1922.
The demand for currency for crop moving and fall trade has been reflected in an increase of $82,000,000 in money circulation between Aug.
11 and Sept. 1.
Money rates were firmer during the first two weeks of September, but eased somewhat after the 15th,
at which time the Government floated its September issue of certificates.
The board traced the change partly to the fact that the Government's disbursements were temporarily in excess of the tax collection.

BECK TELLS BANKERS OF BILLS PROPOSED TO CURB RADICALISM

Solicitor-General of U. S. Addresses Final Session of Annual Convention.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—
The annual convention of the American Bankers' Association came to a close yesterday after installation of officers, a forum on the Federal Reserve system and discussion by James H. Beck, Solicitor-General, of perils which confront America.
Beck warned of the need for adequate immigration laws to meet the situation created by the revolutionary and criminal elements in this country.
Two bills will be urged for passage at the next session of Congress, he said: one requiring registration of all aliens in this country and the other making it a crime to conspire to overthrow the national Government by force and violence.
The reluctance of state banks to join the Federal Reserve system was ascribed by Andrew J. Frame, chairman of the board, Waukesha National Bank, Waukesha, Wis., to their unwillingness to consent to "the injustice, which robs 12,000 state banks of say $100,000,000 annually for the benefit of the rich in the great centers."

SENATORS, BACK FROM EUROPE, GIVE IMPRESSIONS ON LEAGUE

Robinson and McKellar Praise Work of Body, While McKinley Says
It Has No Influence.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Conflicting views on the League of Nations were expressed here today by a group of Senators just back from a trip to Europe.
Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader, asserted that "the league is not dead or dying."
Senator McKinley, Republican, of Illinois, said Article 15 was dead and the league had no political influence.

Tennessee, declared American participation in the league "would have

Fascisti Government's Claim of Big Reduction in National Budget Challenged by Facts

Mussolini's Increased Expenditures on Army and Aviation May Swell Deficit—Nation Can not Hope to Pay Debt to U. S. in Cash.

De Stefani, who holds the portfolio for Finance and the Treasury, read his official report in the Scala Opera House in Milan instead of before the Chamber of Deputies in Rome, thus avoiding awkward questions concerning his bookkeeping. This was in line with Mussolini's plan of no political discussions or adverse press criticisms, as shown in previous articles. This is the fifth of a series of articles dealing with the situation in Italy under the rule of Mussolini.

By KATJETAN DUNBAR,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
ROME, Aug. 19.—In Italy, as elsewhere, one of the tests of wise government is the national budget.
Much has been written and said about the wonderful way in which the Fascisti Government has reduced the deficit of four billion lire it found on coming into power. But two objections must be made to this blast of trumpets from the somewhat loud orchestra of the dictator's flatterers. First, that former ministries, including the clever Giolitti and the clever, but now execrated, Nitti, laid the basis for drastic taxation such as no continent European country has voluntarily undertaken. Second, that the Fascisti estimates, on calm though necessarily imperfect examination, is not so flourishing as the Government says.
De Stefani, who holds the portfolio for finance and the treasury, made his official and public report some weeks ago. He did not speak in the Chamber of Deputies, as former ministers have done, but chose the Scala Opera House at Milan for his purpose. This not unnaturally gave deputies a chance of saying that he went from Rome to Milan because the Chamber would have asked awkward questions about some of his figures and statements;
but one thing is certain: Mussolini is spending the year 1,250,000,000 more on the army than his predecessors have spent in any year since the end of the war. He is also spending on aviation; but here again secrecy is so deep that even a newspaper man's natural curiosity is met with suspicion and a curt reply that: "The Government is not in a position to make any statement whatever."

Italian Finance on Tight Rope.
Despite the boasts of the Fascisti financial situation. Briefly, they are as follows:
1. Italian finance is, on the whole, taking the right road, the road of taxation and economy, of an ever-growing if slow-growing equilibrium between expenses and receipts; and, therefore, a downward tendency of the national deficit.
2. Despite the Fascisti flourish of trumpets and the exaggerated financial success the deficit for the current financial year 1923-1924 lies somewhere between 3,700,000,000 and 4,000,000,000
lire, not as De Stefani pretends, round 2,412,000,000 lire. The Senate, which despite its evident approval of much that Mussolini has done, retains an attitude of criticism and has stated what it thinks of the budget, has made this clear. Newspaper reports on the Senate debate wherein this fact was proved did not pass the censorship which weighs on the foreign correspondents working in Italy.

3. The immediate future of Italy's financial situation depends to a great extent on the solution of the Ruhr tangle for only through getting German reparations and cheap German coal and other raw materials can expenses be cut down. No more taxation is possible; the Italian nation is ready taxed to the limit of its capacity. This future also depends upon the attitude of America and Great Britain toward Italy's war debts. For this reason Mussolini still insists on taking the reparations question together with the debts question.
4. Italy owes America and Great Britain 22,000,000,000 gold lire, or four and two-fifths billion American dollars, or $5,000,000,000 not counting the paper currency, is only $4,220,000,000 lire. Notwithstanding this, the Italian are this year being spent on the army.

What is Mussolini's policy with regard to these 22,000,000,000 gold lire? On one occasion, when receiving some foreign journalists—immediately after his accession to power—he said that Italy would pay these debts. And that was all. De Stefani was more explicit at Milan. He said:
"Italy Intends to Pay U. S."
"With regard to the United States, Italy clearly says she means to face her obligations. But she asks the powerful American republic to consider her large facilities, in proportion to those she has conceded. Engaged, taking into account the great affluence between England's and our economic situation and the war tribune we have paid to common victory."

How the Sum Works Out.
Therefore, talking in millions of lire, the sum works out like this:
Annuity deficit, $15,000,000, 100, 000,000 less from state railroads (De Stefani based his statement on the supposition that there would be 100, 000,000 economies, whereas on close examination it is clear that this sum is to be obtained by increased

She Feels Rewarded.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The woman who lacks resources of mind is more to be pitied than he who lacks resources of body.

An earnest student of Soldan Evening High School, I have been asked numerous times by friends, acquaintances and even strangers about how to register for a course of study. What benefit have you derived from attending? It is impossible for me to sum up in one brief sentence the pleasure I have derived or the progress one is capable of making under the guidance of the teachers of the night classes.

The principal makes the statement when announcing the various courses of study that students who attend the evening schools are generally persons employed during the day and who desire to progress in some special line, so that he or she would be able to fill a higher position. The heights to which I wished to soar were those of a French quotation while reading to be able to translate readily. My ambitions have been realized. Likewise, the dreams of my fellow students, judging from the splendid record of attendance of the majority. When I was young and all the world seemed gay, a quotation from a great writer made me pause and consider. It was as follows: "He who lacks resources of mind is more to be pitied than he who lacks resources of body." How can that be? I questioned. A person "lacking resources of body" cannot dance, swim or enjoy sports of any kind. How lone some such a one must become! The solution of the problem is this: One is only young these days and a briefed when the bright lexicon of youth has fled, one turns naturally to depend on the resources of mind. We are delighted to discover we have real resources of mind. Therefore, we must agree with the famous author and I feel assured that pupils who attend regularly the classes at any one of the night schools of St. Louis will at some future time find that they have reaped a reward.

Pleased With Traffic Officer.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE traveled a great deal, all through the East, but I must say, in all my touring, I have never met a more polite and finer traffic officer than there was on the corner of Washington and Ninth. He was a stranger to me. When I arrived in St. Louis I inquired for the Statler. I started to make a wrong turn. He came over to me. I surely expected to get a calling-down, as you always get from all of them. He said: "I see you are from Indiana," and he talked very politely and explained to me the rules. Even my women in the car remarked: "There is a perfect gentleman." Again next day I parked my car on a street running north, half a square from the corner. I was looking my car. Again my women said: "Here comes that same traffic man." I wondered what was wrong. He came up to me and said: "Don't look the car. In case of fire the car must be moved," and mind you, he said it very nice and politely. Traffic men like that are very scarce and I feel I cannot say too much for him.

Smoker Champions Mr. Pease.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
PERMIT me to answer your editorial on Dr. Charles G. Pease, head of the Nonsmoking League. Being an inveterate smoker and lover of the weed, I nevertheless take his view of the matter. Let me put a hypothetical question to you: Your wife is in ill health and your baby has a severe cough and cold; you are taking them to a physician and board a street car; the man seated next to your wife is smoking a corncob pipe; two youths in front of her are smoking the vilest brand of cheap cigarettes; and the man in the aisle a "Flor de Cabbagino." Do you mean to tell me that you would not resent this? Anticipating your reply that this very rarely if ever occurs, I will say that it happens every day in our street cars. No, not on Page or Delmar, but on Cass, Wellston, Broadway, Cherokee, etc. Whose fault is it? Yours, Mr. Editor, by continually preaching to the uneducated and illiterate the doctrine of "rights," "personal privileges," etc. Do I smoke? Yes, but at the right time and place; not in picture shows, street cars, department stores or any other place where many people are assembled. I will always have a person arrested for smoking in the front part of a car—but I won't write him a letter first, as Dr. Pease does. The simple fact that I can invoke the law proves that there is a ban on indecent smoking. From the tone of your editorial, I take it, that being a smoker, you are one of those gentlemen (?) who quickly removes his hat on entering an elevator full of ladies, but keep your cigar in your mouth.

BIG BUSINESS AND THE LEAGUE.

The Mussolini-Poincare alliance seems determined to smash the League of Nations. First, Italy denied the League's competence to pass on the Corfu seizure, insisting the question be referred to the Council of Ambassadors. When that body's judgment was rejected by Mussolini the League sought to compose a dangerous situation by diplomatically suggesting that the question of its competence be determined by the World Court. Now Mussolini, supported by Poincare, objects to an appeal to the court and arrogantly tells the League to determine the question of its competence itself.

Meanwhile the Council of Ambassadors has had a change of heart and has amended its original findings by ordering the payment by Greece of 50,000,000 lira to Italy while the case supposedly is still sub judice.

A report from Geneva declares that, excepting Italy and France, not one of the 44 nations represented approves the latest decision of the Ambassadors or endorses Poincare's policy towards Germany, but the courage to protest and join issue with the two European war lords has not appeared. The payment of the 50,000,000 lira to Italy, as a Greek representative explained, is not a simple transaction for his country. That money, he remarks, "would have restored 10,000 families to decent circumstances," the implication being that this urgent service must be postponed.

It is a fair surmise, in view of recent revelations as to the financing by Italian Big Business of Mussolini's march on Rome and overthrow of an ottose Ministry, whether Mussolini's backers are not the power behind the Italian dictator. The Fascist campaign must have cost a pretty penny. Did Italian Big Business, hungry for substantial returns on its investment, see in the Janina assassination a chance, in the name of national dignity, to collect a dividend? Did the pressure exerted by Mussolini on the Council of Ambassadors to recede from its original position and order immediate payment by Greece originate with the Big Business that put Mussolini where he is?

Is Big Business, functioning through Mussolini and Poincare, the real Nemesis of the League of Nations and the root-source of Europe's plight?

OUR FATAL BUREAUCRACY.

If taxes are to be reduced Government expenses must be reduced, so former Gov. Lowden of Illinois told the National Tax Association. The truth of that statement is too obvious for discussion, but while we all suffer under the burdens of heavy taxation and clamor for relief, the process of piling up Government expenses by creating new bureaus and commissions and insisting upon new or expanded Government enterprises goes merrily on. There is only one way to reduce and that is to reduce, and when a man like Mr. Lowden suggests a plan his suggestion should be heeded, for, as Governor of Illinois, he put into actual practice his theories of economical administration by introducing modern business methods in public affairs.

Apart from the waste and cost of the present unsystematic method of transacting the Federal Government's business there is another and graver reason for thorough reorganization. In his discussion of the question, "Shall We Kill Our Presidents?" Will Hays describes in much detail the burdens now heaped upon the executive by an unbelievably unorganized, inchoate system. The needless drafts upon the President's time and energy are enormous, as conclusively demonstrated by the death of Mr. Harding and the invalidism of Mr. Wilson. In Mr. Hays' judgment, Mr. Taft is alive today thanks to having escaped a second term.

Is the White House to be known as a Death House? Is an insatiable bureaucracy, by confiscatory taxes and extension of its powers, to destroy both our industrial and political structures? Those are questions which our endangered democracy should resolutely face.

What Wall street may not know about stock watering the bootleggers do.

SMOKE ORDINANCE OBJECTIONS.

Honest, informed criticism of the proposed new smoke ordinance should serve to perfect it rather than weaken or defeat it. The "practical" men—engineers and firemen—were heard before the aldermanic committee Wednesday evening. While it was stated that the old ordinance, if enforced, would be as effective as the new, all speakers were for smoke abatement, and differences concerned more the method than the end.

The engine men voice two main objections. They insist on practical rather than theoretical men for inspectors. They object to the owner of the plant, the fireman in addition to the owner of the plant. The first objection, so far as applicable, is valid. The smoke ordinance may as well be buried at once if its enforcement is entrusted to men who cannot speak authoritatively to engine men and command their respect. It ought not to be difficult to satisfy this requirement in the terms of the ordinance.

The second objection should be reconciled without much difficulty. The contention made by Mr. Cassidy, representing the stationary engineers, that smoke control is a matter of education and cooperation, is fully borne out by the best authority. In Pittsburgh, which is regarded as having achieved the most in smoke abatement, the enforcement officers testify that friendly co-operation, not prosecution, is responsible for their success. The city, however, should have the power to prosecute and penalize, for without such power its hands would be tied. This authority need not be feared by those willing to co-operate.

Where cheap fuel is unavoidably responsible for an illegal emission of smoke the inspector could be apprised of the same and could hold the proper party responsible. The fireman would have his defense in such case, and would not need to fear prosecution under a just administration of the law, which must be assumed. Unfortunately, the discontent of employees owing to low wages is not a matter which the city can correct. It is a factor, however, which should be heeded by employers who, in most cases, have financial interest themselves in the abatement of smoke. If too many apartment furnaces are attended by a single fireman to permit of proper stoking, penalization should be brought against the owner rather than the fireman.

Though the new ordinance should be drawn as fairly as it is possible to write a law, it should not be divested of its teeth. If its provision for competent inspection would make it more enforceable than the old ordinance, as we believe it would, then it must be a better law.

Germany can now swap experiences with Oklahoma.

HOUSEWIVES' CASH VALUE.

It is desirable to know on a wage basis, says Dr. Louis Stanley, chief of the Federal Bureau of Home Economics, the contribution that the housewife makes to the family income in performing her various home duties. Husbands may resent this latest audacity of the experts, for they might shrink to see their own earnings placed beside the true value of the housewife's services. But never mind. It can't be done. There is no way of appraising kindness in cash or of discharging the thousand and one touches of femininity in the home with a bare, vulgar salary.

"Much of a woman's contribution to the home," says Dr. Stanley, "is intangible." We should say it is. So much so that mechanical service, important though it may be, shrinks to insignificance in comparison. With the purpose of the experts in making such an appraisal are not concerned. But we know one purpose which may be served. While it may never have occurred to the conscientious housewife that her ministrations have a cash value, others, alas, there are, who have failed to realize that their tangible contribution to the home might be put down by a statistician with a bald, tell-tale zero. Let the delicate woman wife be put on record and her breed will decrease. Also the divorce business.

OH FIE, MR. BURBANK!

OF all men, Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, is the last man one would expect to find among the fanatics. Yet, on the question of the use of tobacco, that is where Burbank stands. The War Cry, organ of the Salvation Army, devotes a page and a half of its current issue to a denunciation of tobacco by Luther Burbank. Burbank, the agnostic, given unlimited space in the Salvationist War Cry. That was because, in this one instance, he was going their way.

Mr. Burbank claims that tobacco is the hidden cause of most physical break-downs. If you die from typhoid, it was because your use of tobacco had weakened your resistance. And so of other ailments. To quote:

"What killed Grant? Why, of course, you know—cancer. But what caused the cancer in his throat? Do you know? Smoking caused it. Gen. Lee could not get Grant, but tobacco got him."

What killed President McKinley? An assassin's bullet, you say. Partly right and partly wrong. McKinley was shot, but his wound need not have proved fatal. Thousands of men, hurt worse, have survived. But they had good hearts. When a great strain comes, strong hearts are necessary to bring the sufferers through alive. McKinley, when he was born, had a strong heart, but the tobacco habit got him and left his heart muscles soft and flabby. When McKinley had need of a strong heart he went down because he had nothing to keep him up. He had smoked up his most vital strength."

In the paragraph following Mr. Burbank says that if Woodrow Wilson had been a smoker, Mr. Marshall might have been President. Wilson had a good heart because he did not smoke, and that saved his life. This is a mere assertion.

Mr. Burbank is a scientific man. Why, then, does he confound excess with temperance? The cases he cites in which tobacco was manifestly injurious were cases of excess. One might as well claim that food was injurious because gluttons sometimes die, directly or indirectly, from excessive eating.

But Mr. Burbank says nothing of the good effects of tobacco in moderation. No fanatic admits that his pet bogey can be a good angel, in moderation. Temperance is ruled out of his vocabulary. Antitobaccoists hold with Ben Jonson that tobacco "is good for nothing but to choke a man and fill him full of smoke and embers." But we have known men who had been irritable and hard to live with for years, who became amiable and companionable when they took to smoking in moderation. One calls to mind that anecdote of Tennyson and Caspary, both smokers. A silent hour in each other's company, each enjoying his pipe, was pronounced the source of satisfaction. Each had "had a good time." Tobacco was a potent bond of friendship.

We take it that Brother Burbank has either never smoked or has smoked to excess. Or, perhaps, he once tried to smoke and gave up when temporarily nauseated. In any of these cases, he is no judge of the mental and moral effect of moderate smoking upon mankind. Is there any trouble, any trial, any suffering, which may not be moderated or made more endurable by the soothing effect of a smoke? The worst troubles that can confront a man, of course, are differences with the fair sex—sweethearts or wives. And in such cases a good cigar or pipe may be the easing of a dangerous tension. This has been humorously treated by great writers, who must have spoken from experience. To quote Bulwer-Lytton:

"Woman in this scale, the weed in that. Jupiter, hang out thy balance and weigh them both, and if thou give the preference to woman all I can say is, the next time Juno ruffles thee

—O Jupiter! Try the weed."

Kipling, too, hinted at the same thing when he made one of his characters say:

"For a woman is only a woman. But a good cigar is a smoke."

The antitobaccoists, who are devoid of humor, will not see the point, which is that the smoker realizes, as they never can, that his mind is soothed and his life made more endurable by this plant, a gift of nature, of which Charles Lamb said:

For thy sake, tobacco, I would do anything but die.

Burbank, however, is right in condemning the immoderate, overemphasized propaganda advertising of the tobacco interests, which is likely to do more harm than good to their cause. With praise of their various products, let them couple a modicum of truthful education on the harmful effects of excess. Let it never be forgotten that excess is mankind's deadly foe. Excess has been the fanatic's principal ally. "A word to the wise is enough."

His Choice.

"Where is your lawyer?" inquired the Judge.

"I have none," responded the prisoner.

"Do you want a lawyer?" asked the Judge.

"Yes, your honor."

"There is Mr. Smith, Mr. Brown and Mr. Green," said the Judge, pointing to the young attorneys, waiting briefless and breathless for some turn up, "and Mr. Alexander is out in the corridor."

The prisoner eyed the budding attorneys and, after a critical survey, said: "Well, I guess I'll take Mr. Alexander."

Let Down.

After effecting an entrance into the bank, the burglar found his way to the strong room.

When the light from his lantern fell on the door he saw the sign:

"Save your dynamite. The safe is not locked. Turn the knob and open."

For a moment he ruminated. "Anyhow, there's no harm in trying it. If it really is open."

He grasped the knob and turned it.

Instantly the office was flooded with light, an alarm bell rang loudly, and an electric shock rendered him helpless, while a panel in the wall opened and out rushed a bulldog which seized him.

An hour later, when the cell door closed on him, he sighed: "I know what's wrong with me. I'm too trusting. I have too much faith in human nature.—Tid-Bits (London).

THE ISSUE IN OKLAHOMA.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

GOV. WALTON'S offense, which has so aroused the ire of the Legislature, is that he has declared martial law because of the possibility of punishing Ku Klux outrages in communities whose officials are under the domination of the Klan, or are in sympathy with it.

Whether he has the exact figures, it is not doubted that many are members of it. For many it has been known that there was a Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, which the civil authorities have been unable or unwilling to put down. The question now is whether the Governor has exceeded his authority in his attempt to put it down. But the hostility of the Legislature is prompted less by that consideration than by its domination by the Ku Klux Klan. The Governor says that 88 of its members are actually members of it. The proof is in the fact that many of them are members of it. ### Veiled Prophet to Move Over a New Route Tuesday Night

THE route to be followed by the Veiled Prophet in his parade through the streets of St. Louis Tuesday night is a new one, going west of Grand boulevard for the first time and omitting Washington boulevard and Lucas avenue, west of the Coliseum.

The parade will start at 8:45 from the intersection of Market and Laclede avenues and will move west on Laclede to Vandeventer avenue, north on Vandeventer to Olive street, east on Olive to Grand boulevard, south on Grand to Laclede avenue, east to the intersection of Market and Laclede, east on Market street to Twelfth boulevard, north on Twelfth to Olive street, east on Olive to Fourth street, north on Fourth to Washington avenue, west on Washington to Jefferson, south on Jefferson to Locust, where it will disperse and the Prophet and his retinue will leave the floats and enter the Coliseum.

Details have been completed for the arrival Monday of the Veiled Prophet, whose curiosity and interest have been so piqued by the air races that he is shattering precedents by coming to the city a full day in advance of the assemblage of his court.

As has been told, the Prophet will arrive here Monday at 10 a. m. He will arrive by airplane, accompanied by certain of his courtiers. Five other planes and escorted by a fleet of the craft assembled at the field which will go to meet him.

As this unusual entourage approaches St. Louis Field at Bridgeport, St. Louis County, Miss Katherine Perkins, first maid to the reigning Veiled Prophet Queen, will ascend in the air and fly to his Majesty, to assure him that his subjects are awaiting him and that his subjects are eager to do obedience to so progressive a sovereign.

The Prophet's fleet will proceed to the field as the band plays the "Star-Spangled Banner." The Queen, Miss Alice Busch, and her other maids will greet the Prophet and accompany him over a purple carpet to the temporary throne set up for him. There he will be presented to W. Frank Carter, acting for the St. Louis Air Board, and Carter, in turn, will present his Majesty to assembled visiting notables.

Accompanied by Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, and his assistant, Brigadier-General William Mitchell, and Rear Admiral W. A. Moffitt, chief of aviation for the Navy, the Prophet will then go to the royal box to witness the opening event of races. It is expected that his Majesty will have his interest still further quickened to make a proclamation through one of his chamberlains.

The Prophet will leave the flying field by motor car and will be met at Union boulevard and Page avenue by courtiers in motor cars, who will escort him through the city to his den, where he will await the den of his ceremonious march. The procession of his courtiers will meet his subjects.

His route in entering the city will be south on Union boulevard to Delmar boulevard, east on Delmar to King's highway, south to Lindell boulevard, east on Lindell to Grand boulevard, south on Grand to Laclede, and thence to his den.

G. O. P. BODY DENOUNCES KLAN
Sixteenth Ward Precinct Workers' Organization Adopts Resolution.
The Ku Klux Klan was denounced as an American by the Republican Sixteenth Ward Precinct Workers' organization in a resolution adopted last night at a meeting in Compton Hall, Compton and Park avenues.

The organization went on record as opposing any candidate for office, or any candidate favoring the Klan or its members.

This follows the recent action of the Republican City Committee in denouncing the Klan. Prior to that time the Democratic City Committee moved the needed organization as an American and declared Klan candidates would be opposed. The Women's Division of the Democratic City Committee took similar action yesterday.

The Sixteenth Ward contains a large proportion of negro residents. Alderman Reis, of the sixteenth, said about 100 precinct workers attended the meeting last night.

Social News

TO MARRY NEXT MONTH

MRS. ARTHUR B. SHEPLEY, of 50 Westmoreland place, will introduce her daughter, Miss Emily Catlin Shepley, to society at a ball to be given at the St. Louis Country Club, the evening of Dec. 14 or Dec. 19, the date to be determined later. Mrs. Shepley, Miss Emily and another daughter, Miss Mary, returned last night from Bar Harbor, Me., where they had a cottage for the season. The debutante attended Miss Porter's school in Farmington, Conn., after graduating from Mary Institute. She will serve as a maid of honor at the Veiled Prophet Ball.

Miss Claire Gagneau of 4909 Arville place and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Warner Niedringhaus of 4223 Pershing avenue are expected in New York Saturday on the Carmania, after a summer's tour of Europe. They will return to St. Louis the first of the week.

Mr. Louis Werner of 36 Westmoreland place returned last week from Harbor Point, Mich., where he spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Foster Bixby, formerly of 6886 Pershing avenue, have taken possession of their new home on the Conway road, in St. Louis County.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Stinde of the Chase Apartments will have as their guests during the air races and festivities Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, Gen. Patrick and Mrs. Stinde's mother, Mrs. Montague Horn, have been friends since childhood.

Mrs. William Briscoe Kinsley of 855 Goodfellow avenue, entertained six young women, some of whom are debutantes this season, yesterday at the Wednesday Club. The guests were Misses Marie Harbaugh, Clementine Adreon, Elizabeth Thatcher, Elaine Voight, Felicia Christman and Caralisa Nichols.

A group of St. Louisians departed in a special car yesterday for Asheville, N. C., to attend the wedding of Miss Dorothy McBride, youngest daughter of Mrs. William Cullen McBride of 26 Washington terrace, and William D. Orthwein, which will take place there tomorrow. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Church Bixby, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stifel, Misses Elizabeth Smith and Tetta Randolph, Joseph L. Werner, Charles Mullikin, Leibel Papin, Arthur Slocom, Dr. I. D. Kelley and Birch Olinver Mahaffey, brothers-in-law of the bride-elect, also went from here, as did Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Orthwein, parents of the bridegroom, and Frederick and Richard Orthwein, his brothers. According to plans announced recently, the ceremony will be performed by Father J. J. O'Connor of St. Louis. A large dinner for members of the family and visiting guests will be given in Asheville tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hudson Thatcher will give two large functions about the middle of December to present their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Thatcher. The first reception at which friends of Mrs. Thatcher will be invited to meet the bride. This will be followed closely by an evening affair for the younger set. Both functions will be given at "Glen Owen," in Ferguson, the Thatcher home for many years. Miss Thatcher was educated at the Sacred Heart Convent in Maryland, and at Manhattanville, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel L. Moffitt of 48 Kingsbury place will be hosts at a dinner party at the St. Louis Club Tuesday evening. After the Veiled Prophet ball, in honor of their daughters, Misses Josephine and Olive Moffitt, who will be debutantes this year. Both are to serve as maids of honor at the ball, and will be presented to society at a reception in November. Mr. and Mrs. Moffitt also are planning a theater party for them later.

Announcement has been made of the marriage yesterday of Mr. Eudene Padgett of St. Louis, formerly of Illinois, and Frank Cornet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Cornet of 4550 Pershing avenue. Father Phillips, a friend of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, at 9 o'clock in St. Alphonsus' (Rock) Church, in the presence of the families and a few friends, and the same group were present at the wedding breakfast at the University Club later. Miss Jewel Bowe attended the bride as maid of honor, and Harry Cornet was his brother's best man. Mrs. Cornet wore her traveling gown of dark brown cloth, with a small pan velvet hat of the same shade trimmed with closely curled ostrich and draped with a chiffon veil. Her fur was a beige fox, and she wore a corsage of cream colored tea roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Bowe's gown was a midnight blue cloth tailored with a blue and silver hat. A gray fox fur was worn, and her flowers were in shade of shell pink and blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornet have gone to Chicago on their wedding trip, and will make their home here. He was educated at St. Louis and Cornell Universities, and during the war served as an Ensign in the navy.

Miss Lucille Cornet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cornet of 4550 Pershing avenue, is expected home the latter part of October from a summer's tour of Europe with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Sullivan and Miss Sullivan, from Chicago. Arrangements will be made then for the debut of her sister, Miss Ruth Cornet, who is to serve as a maid of honor at the Veiled Prophet ball.

The Algonquin Club was the scene of a gathering Monday, when the members of the Board of the Eighth District, Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, gave a surprise party luncheon to their president, Mrs. J. J. Layne. Covers were laid for 19 members.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 28.—Miss Helen Cannon Leasure of Danville, Ill., granddaughter of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, became the bride today of Dorsey Richardson of Baltimore, director-general in Europe for the United States Lines. The ceremony in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, was conducted by the Rev. John Mansel-Pleydell at noon, with a full surpliced choir in attendance. Little Dorothy Thompson, granddaughter of American Ambassador George Harvey, was one of the bride's train bearers.

After the ceremony a wedding reception was held at Raleigh House in Chelsea, the home of Post-Wheelers, Counselor of the American Embassy, whose wife is a cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left for a honeymoon tour through England's country districts, planning to go later to Berlin for the winter.

AT KIWANIS CLUB LUNCHEON

Naval Battle of the Future Described by Lieut. B. H. Holcomb, Alternate in Speed Race.

The Kiwanis Club entertained visiting aviators at luncheon at the American Annex Hotel yesterday. Lieut. B. H. Holcomb of the navy air service and a first alternate in the Pulitzer speed race, and Maj. C. L. Tinker of the army, entrant in the Liberty Engine Builders' race, made short talks on aviation.

Lieut. Holcomb described the naval battle of the future as a long range gun duel between fleets aided by scout, bombing, combat and torpedo airplanes. The most advanced theory of procedure, he said, is to use scout planes to locate the enemy fleet, instead of scout cruisers and destroyers. The fleet located, observation planes are sent aloft to spot the advancing ships and send wireless reports on range to the fighting tops of the defending fleet.

Combat planes are used to protect the observers and to attack the enemy. Bombers are sent aloft to blow up opposing battleships. Torpedo planes, aided by a smoke screen laid down by the bombers, dash into close range of the enemy, and, flying low, release torpedoes. Then they escape under cover of the smoke. If the air service fails to annihilate the enemy there are always the salvos of guns from the battleships to fall back on.

Maj. Tinker urged civilian support of the airplane industry. He said the greatest development from the army standpoint was the bombing airplane.

Special Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Miss Charlotte Nash of St. Louis, who appeared as "Miss St. Louis" at the recent Atlantic City pageant, and who is appearing at the Nixon Theater here this week, yesterday was received by Mayor Moore and complimented on the excellent showing she made at the recent pageant and on her success locally.

Miss Nash modestly suggested that she was glad to meet the Mayor, and that Mayor Kiel of St. Louis was chairman of the judges and had made it possible for her to come East, to which Mayor Moore applauded and said he complimented the St. Louis Mayor on his good taste. Miss Nash is now considering a long-term contract, but is awaiting parental consent before signing.

KYNE TO GUIDE LLOYD GEORGE
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Peter B. Kyne, American author, will guide David Lloyd George on his forthcoming tour of the United States, it was announced last night by Sir Alfred Cope, Lloyd George's personal representative in this country.

Sir Alfred said Kyne was selected because of his wide acquaintance in the United States, of his service in France and because Lloyd George, as well as many of the people, had made pleasant acquaintances among the novelist's characters.

"Spirit of St. Louis" Oct. 20.
The historic story of this city's development as told in motion pictures, will be presented to the public for the first time at the Grand Central, West End Lyric and Capitol theaters the week of Oct. 20. ## ST. LOUIS LIQUOR CONCERN FINED $5000

Charges Against Officers and Employees of Henry Albrecht & Co. Dismissed.

The Post-Dispatch, Sept. 25.—Federal Court indictments charging Henry Albrecht, former East St. Louis wholesale liquor dealer, and his son, Henry Albrecht, with violation of the national prohibition laws for possession of and sale of liquor were returned in Federal Court here today.

Indictment was requested by W. S. Hunter, District Attorney, after attorneys representing the Albrechts agreed to enter a plea of guilty to the prohibition laws for possession of and sale of liquor.

Charges against individual members of the firm were nolle. A fine of $5000 was assessed against the corporation, the maximum possible under the law. In passing sentence, Judge Lindley remarked that this fine was the only punishment available when a corporation was defendant.

Names Named in Indictment.

The indictments against Albrecht and his son, as individuals, also named Ira Truesdale, Louis O'Brien, Henry Penhorn and Frank Truesdale as a member of the firm of Henry Albrecht & Co., the three being employees.

Henry Albrecht & Co. has operated wholesale grocery and soft drink store at 218 Broadway, East St. since the prohibition amendment became effective. In the days before prohibition the Albrecht cafe was one of the best known in Southern Illinois, being a favorite of politicians.

Prohibition enforcement agents raided the establishment of Albrecht & Co. Feb. 7, last. They reported finding 100 gallons of colored alcohol, some liquor supposed to be whisky, 25 gallons of liquor supposed to be rum and champagne, bottling equipment, a quantity of stamps such as are placed over corks of bot-ties containing liquor bottled in bond and a quantity of caution labels such as are placed on bottles containing whisky sold only for medicinal purposes.

Pleas of guilty were entered for the corporation to five counts of the indictment. They charged sales of liquor, furnishing liquor, manufacturing liquor, possession of liquor and maintenance of a common nuisance, all in violation of national prohibition laws. A sixth count in the indictment against the corporation charged violation of the revenue act in having counterfeit strip stamps or labels in its possession. This count was dismissed under the agreement with the defendants.

Madison W. C. T. U. Election.

Officers were elected Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Madison County W. C. T. U. held in Alton. The new officers are: President, Mrs. Arch Kortkamp of Alton; vice president, Mrs. Mary Butler of Granite City; secretary, Mrs. M. Chattle of Granite City; treasurer, Mrs. Louise Armstrong of Edwardsville and Auditor, Mrs. Lillie Savage of Granite City. Wood River was selected as the place for the spring institute.

WARNS LABOR OF "RAINY DAY" AHEAD IN BUILDING INDUSTRY

A. F. of L. Official Says Unhealthy Condition Exists—Compensates Prizes
Use of Union Label.

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—An unhealthy condition exists in the building industry in America and workmen engaged in it should prepare for the "rainy day" which must follow the collapse of the present boom, in the opinion of John Donlin, president of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor. Donlin sounded his warning in presenting his annual report yesterday at the convention of the building trades here.

An attempt was made in the convention to heal the two-year-old breach between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the other trades, but it was not at once successful. The resolution voicing the effort was referred to the Committee on Resolutions, following defeat of an effort to obtain immediate action.
Samuel Gompers, delegate to the label trades department of the American Federation of Labor, sat in its session in his capacity as a delegate, but spoke in his capacity as president of the American Federation of Labor.

"Every influence that has kept conditions of labor in the United States from retrogression has come from organized labor," he declared, "and it was the resistance of organized labor to the drive to reduce wages after the war that saved us and has brought about the present-day condition wherein nearly every working man is employed in gainful occupation under conditions that are tolerable."

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE

Mistrial in Case of Motorist Whose Car Caused Boy's Death.

A mistrial was declared by Circuit Judge McElhinney at Clayton last night in the case of Carl W. Jacob, a tailor, charged with manslaughter as the result of a fatal automobile accident. On Nov. 13, 1931, an automobile driven by Jacob collided with a buggy driven by Fred Davidson, a farmer, of Affton, Mo., at Gravois and Selbert avenues, knocking Davidson's 12-year-old son, Fred Jr., to the street. The boy died next day at St. Ann's Hospital from a fractured skull.

Jacob was not identified at the trial as the driver of the car striking the buggy, but took the stand in his own behalf and while testifying admitted that he was the driver. The jury received the case at 12:30 p. m. and at 9:30 p. m. reported it could not reach an agreement and was discharged.

Four Out of Five Pay the Penalty— Take Heed of Bleeding Gums

First, bleeding gums—
Then comes Pyorrhea.
Neglect means lost teeth, broken health.
Don't take chances: the odds are too heavy against you.
Pyorrhea strikes four persons out of every five past forty, and thousands younger, too.
Go to your dentist for tooth and gum inspection. Brush your teeth with Forhan's For the Gums. If used consistently and used in time, this dentifrice will prevent Pyorrhea
or check its progress.

Forhan's For the Gums is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S.
Used as a dentifrice, it will keep your teeth white and clean and your gums firm and healthy. It is pleasant to the taste. At all druggists, 35c

INQUIRY MADE INTO WEALTHY SOCIETY MATRON'S DEATH

Physician Refuses to Issue Certificate in Case of Mrs. Charles Webb of New York.

RELATIVES ALSO SEEK INVESTIGATION

Viscera Removed for Examination—Value of Woman's Estate Estimated at More Than $2,000,000.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Charles Webb, New York and Philadelphia society woman, daughter of S. Jennings Gorman, wealthy, and member of the Westchester social set, died in the Westchester Biltmore Country Club at Rye, N. Y., Tuesday night, under circumstances which her physician regarded as so suspicious that he refused to issue a death certificate, it became known today.

The physician, Dr. William J. Meyer of White Plains, appealed to Coroner Edward Fitzgerald of Westchester County. The latter was at first inclined to believe the physician's doubts were the result of his being overworked at the loss of his patient. He finally became so impressed that he communicated with an aunt and uncle who were present when Mrs. Webb died. The relatives joined Dr. Meyer in demanding an investigation. Coroner Fitzgerald summoned several medical experts, including toxicologists from New York.

Examination Being Made. These men went to White Plains yesterday and removed Mrs. Webb's viscera for examination by Dr. Goettler, toxicologist on the staff of Chief Medical Examiner Norris of New York City.

Dr. Goettler has not reported the results of his examination to determine whether there was poison in lethal doses in Mrs. Webb's system. His report is expected either tomorrow or Monday.

It is reported that Mrs. Webb recently changed her will in a manner to affect the distribution of the large estate, estimated at between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000, largely in high-class apartment property in the Grand Central Terminal zone, which she had inherited and which she had actively managed up to the time of her last illness.

Dr. Meyer said he had requested the investigation now under way because he was not satisfied with all the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Webb's death. He refused, however, to name the illness for which he had been treating her, or to discuss any of the other angles of the case.

Husband With Wife at Death. Charles Webb, husband of the dead woman, had been at the Country Club with her up to the time of her death. He departed the next day, but efforts to find him at 226 Madison avenue, which has been the Gorman home for several generations and which he shared with his wife since their marriage last November, or at the Yale Club, where he lived from time to time prior to his marriage, were not successful.

Mrs. Webb was married at the Madison avenue house Nov. 4 last. She was of the fourth generation that has occupied the family home. Her grandfather, the late Edmund A. S. Smith, financier, left a fortune in real estate, which is still in the family possession. She is a descendant of the Jennings and Price families of Connecticut, on her father's side.

Webb's father, the late Charles Henry Webb, "John Paul," was known as an author and journalist. For three years he was literary editor of the New York Tribune under Henry J. Raymond, and was affiliated with New York Tribune under Horace Greeley, and with the New York Herald. He was the founder of The Californian, which was the first literary journal of that State and publisher of Mark Twain's first book. His wife was a lineal descendant of Levi Holden, a Lieutenant of Washington's bodyguard, and with his brother, a founder of the Order of the Cincinnati.

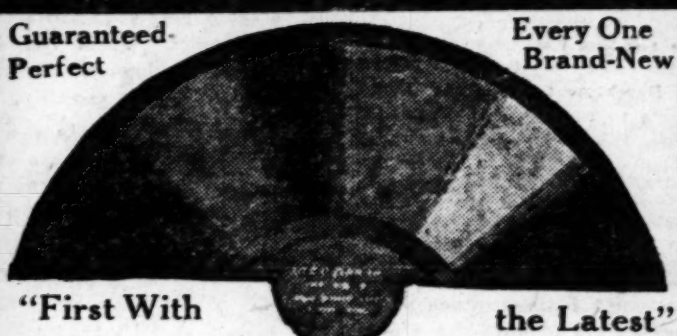

Webb was graduated from Yale, class of '97, and is a member of the Sons of the Revolution.

TUG OF WAR CONTESTANT DIES

Colgate Freshman Suffered Internal Injuries. By the Associated Press. UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—En route home on one of the fastest steamships, Mr. and Mrs. William Burke of Burnt, N. Y., lost a race with death when their son, William Burke Jr., 17, a Colgate freshman, died at the Colgate Infirmary from injuries suffered during a tug of war between lower classes last Thursday. Burke was anchor man and tied the rope about his body. The rival classmen won the event and dragged Burke and companions for a distance. Burke suffered internal injuries. His parents were in London when they learned of his illness.

TEXT OF AMERICAN ARMS CONVENTION NOTE MADE PUBLIC

State Department Points Out League Plan Is Not Aimed at General Limitation of Armament.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The State Department has made public the note to the League of Nations in which the United States declined to become a party to the proposed arms traffic convention through ratification of the convention of Saint Germain.

The purport of the communication was disclosed at the Geneva conference of the league a few days ago, but attached to the text as made public, was an explanatory statement, saying that the note "did not indicate that this Government was less anxious than other powers suitably to control the traffic in arms."

Dealing with objections to the convention, the note said:

"While the application of the convention to certain designated areas or zones, extending in effect the League convention, may fulfill a useful object, the plan of the present convention is much broader. The distinctive feature of this plan is not a provision for a general limitation of armament, but the creation of a system of control by the signatory powers of the traffic in arms and munitions, these signatory powers being left free, not only to meet their own requirements in the territories subject to their jurisdiction, but also to provide for supplying each other with arms and munitions to the full extent that they may see fit."

Legislation Needed.

"There is particular objection to the provisions by which the contracting parties would be prohibited from selling arms and munitions to states not parties to the convention. By such provisions this Government would be required to prevent shipments of military supplies to such Latin-American countries as have not signed or adhered to the convention, however desirable it might be to permit such shipments, merely because they are not signatory powers and might not desire to adhere to the convention."

"It should be observed also that the acceptance by the United States of an agreement of the nature and scope of the convention of Saint Germain would call for the enactment of legislation to make it operative and particularly for the imposition of penalties applicable to private arms producing concerns as a means of establishing an effective control. This Government is not in a position to undertake to obtain the enactment of such legislation."

Harding's Letter Recalled.

"Finally, it may be observed that the provisions of the convention relating to the League of Nations are so intertwined with the whole convention as to make it impracticable for this Government to ratify, in view of the fact that it is not a member of the League of Nations."

Attention was called in the statement to President Harding's action in expressing to Secretary Weeks last April the hope that the policy of the War Department would be "not only to make no sales of war equipment to any foreign power, but to refuse to make any such sales certain that public sales to our own citizens will be attended by proper guarantees that such supplies are not to be transferred to any foreign power."

"I would readily waive aside any financial advantage that might attend such sales," President Harding's letter continued, "to make sure that none of our surplus equipment is employed in encouraging warfare anywhere in the world."

Italian Spokesman Said to Yield to Appeals by Cecil.

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Sept. 23.—A spirit of conciliation appears to have governed this morning's private session of the Council of the League of Nations when, it is reported, the Italian spokesman, Signor Salandra, yielding to the appeals of Lord Robert Cecil and Gabriel Hanotaux, agreed to approve a formula of action concerning the questioning of interpretation of the league covenant by Italy in her recent dispute with Greece. According to unofficial declarations, the council plans this afternoon to adopt a resolution calculated to close the incident.

The basis of the agreement, it is understood, is that the council, including Italy, recognizes the doctrine that any international dispute between members of the league likely to lead to rupture falls within the league's sphere of action and if such disputes cannot be settled by diplomacy, arbitration or judicial means, it is the duty of the council to deal with it under Article XV of the covenant of the League of Nations.

The Disarmament Commission decided definitely that, in view of the divergence of opinion on its contents, including the clause authorizing supplementary defensive alliances, all the Governments should be requested to send in their opinion of the pact to the league. Hence any action on the pact has been postponed until next year.

The assembly of the league considered humanitarian problems and measures to organize relief for countries in distress.

The leadership of the United States in the opium fight was the subject of warm tributes.

Perfect performance—Beauty too!

The new Wahl Pen in exquisite engine-turned design is a thoroughly practical writing instrument. It is the most recent development in black rubber fountain pens.

You don't have to shake a Wahl Pen. It is always ready to write. The ink begins to flow the instant the point touches paper.

But Wahl Pen never floods and never stains the fingers. The comb feed regulates the ink flow perfectly. And the Wahl special filler fills the pen absolutely full of ink every time.

The everlasting nib is a wonder. It is 14-karat gold, tipped with the hardest, finest iridium. It writes so smoothly that it seems just made for your particular style.

Wahl Pen is so perfectly balanced that it feels great in your writing hand. It is an outstanding fountain pen made by the makers of Eversharp. Ask to see it. Select the style that appeals to you most. Price, $2.50 up.

Eatmor Cranberries

Cranberries are in the market!
New crop of rich, crisp fruit

There are so many ways of serving cranberries that they can be put on the table every day in some tasty form.

Cranberry sauce, properly made, can be used for a multitude of dainty, appetizing dishes—cranberry pie, cranberry shortcake, cranberry puddings, cranberry tarts—an almost inexhaustible list of tempting desserts. And delicious cranberry sauce can be made in TEN MINUTES! Fine with all meats—also may be put up in Mason jars for use in making a quick dessert. Try this recipe for ten-minute cranberry sauce, also these two wonderful cranberry desserts:

Cranberry Sauce
1 qt. cranberries 2 cups boiling water
1 1/2 to 2 cups sugar

Boil sugar and water together for five minutes; skim; add the cranberries and boil without stirring (five minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins are broken. Remove from the fire when the popping stops.

Cranberry Shortcake
4 eggs 3/4 cup flour
3/4 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored and add to the egg whites and sugar. Add salt. Fold in the flour and add vanilla. Bake in a greased loaf tin in a moderate oven 3/4 hour. Serve hot with heavy sauce.

To be sure of getting the choicest cultivated varieties—ask for EATMOR CRANBERRIES. The red and blue trademark label is on all barrels and boxes. Always cook cranberries in porcelain-lined or aluminum vessels.

Send your name and address and we will mail you an attractive illustrated cranberry recipe folder showing many delicious ways to prepare Eatmor Cranberries.

BELIEVES MAN SHOT BY WIFE IS HIDING HERE

Coulterville, (Ill.) Resident Tells of Call at His Home by Masked Band.

A belief that a man who, he says, his wife shot, is hiding in St. Louis is conveyed to the police in a letter from E. J. Benjamin of Coulterville, Ill., a traveling salesman.

The recital of the letter is substantially as follows: While Benjamin was absent from home Monday about 12 p. m. his wife, who was alone in the house, a half mile from the outskirts of the town, observed an automobile stop and several men alight. They appeared to be adjusting handkerchiefs on their faces. Mrs. Benjamin obtained a revolver and concealed it in her dress as she went to answer a summons to the front door. A man, with a handkerchief over his face, stood at the door. "Are you Mrs. Benjamin?" "Yes," "Are you going to testify in that trial?" "I am going to tell the truth," "You're not going to testify; we are Kluxers from town."

Mrs. Benjamin drew forth her revolver and fired into the man's stomach. He fell. She slammed the door and ran upstairs. Through a window she saw two men carrying the man to the automobile. She fired in return and saw that she had shattered the windshield. The men drove off. It was an hour before she could reach Coulterville police by telephone. They had observed the automobile she described drive through town in the direction of St. Louis.

Benjamin, said today over the telephone that his wife was subpoenaed in a local suit of one man against another for damages based on alienation of a wife's affections. The case was to have been heard yesterday, but was postponed.

LIEUTENANT DESCRIBES MAKING OF MOSAIC MAP OF WASHINGTON

A group of army airmen who arrived at Scott Field yesterday, preparatory to taking part in the international air meet at St. Louis Field, exemplified the character of the officers of the army air service. For the most part they are young men, who entered the army when this country took a hand in the World War.

An example is First Lieutenant Howard K. Ramey of Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., who flew the plane from which the mosaic map of Washington, now on exhibition at an outside corner of the Federal Building, was made. A Sergeant operated the camera, which was the least important of the two jobs, precision in flying being an essential.

"We made that map in one flight," the birdman said. "It was in September last year. We flew at an altitude of 10,000 feet for two hours and 20 minutes and the photographer shot 210 negatives."

"I joined the army in 1917," Lieut. Ramey went on, "and was put on the Mexican border patrol. I photographed the western half of that border during seven months. I've taken mosaics of Boston and Portland, Me., and took pictures of the Cahokia Mounds, near St. Louis, a couple of years ago."

"In the spring of 1922 I made a lot of shots of St. Louis and vicinity from an altitude of 17,000 feet. From that height, flying over Scott Field, I could get a picture showing St. Louis and St. Charles."

The Lieutenant was a student at Mississippi A. and M. College when he quit to join the air service. His home is in Mississippi. He is 25 years old. His plane is a De Havilland 4-L and he is entered in the Liberty engine builders' trophy race. He said his plane had won army races of 500, 1000, 1500 and 2000 kilometers.

Chicago Witne Confronts Alleged "Go-Between" and Later Attempts to Leap From Window.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Robert Lee, negro, a former Deputy Sheriff, one of the witnesses questioned by the State's Attorney in the investigation of charges by Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes that her husband, wealthy New York hotel owner, had conspired to defame her reputation, attempted to jump from the window of Prosecutor Charles Wharton's office today. He was caught by a Detective Sergeant as he threw one foot over the sill of the window, five stories from the street. He was taken to jail.

Lee had been confronted a short time before by R. E. Fiske, negro, who said that Lee and Joseph Brunner, alleged "pay-off" man in the employ of Stokes, had offered him $1500 if he would make affidavit and later testify that he knew Mrs. Stokes as an inmate of a notorious club, according to the prosecutor.

Richard Westbrook, negro attorney for Stokes and Millie Phillips were questioned before the grand jury yesterday. Letters and telegrams, said to have been written by Westbrook to attorneys for Mrs. Stokes, offering to sell out to her, according to the prosecutor, were read. The woman said she had signed an affidavit aimed at Mrs. Stokes, in the belief that it was an eviction notice.

Mrs. Edward Schlenz, a childhood playmate in Denver of Mrs. Stokes, volunteered the information to the State's Attorney that Mrs. Stokes was in Denver at the time certain affidavits were made claiming she was an inmate of the resort.

Mrs. Wallace Tyler, negro, told the State's Attorney that Lee and Brunner had obtained pictures of her and her husband on the pretense of wishing to copy Tyler's picture on a tombstone. The prosecutor said he was convinced these pictures were later used, with Mrs. Stokes' picture imposed on them.

Wickham celebrated his seventieth birthday by playing 70 holes of golf over the Hyperion Club links here. Wickham consummated the 70 holes in a little less than 10 hours, finishing at 5 p. m. He made the 70 holes in 333 strokes, an average of a little less than five and one-half strokes to a hole. He played the 18-hole course three times and then played the outside nine again and seven holes of the inside nine to reach his goal. His high 18 was the first round of the morning, which he accomplished in 103 strokes in a driving rainstorm. Toward noon the sky cleared and his afternoon score was better.

High Blood Pressure

Physician's Discovery Safely Reduces to Normal and Dizzy Spells Disappear.

If your blood pressure is too high you cannot pass a life insurance examination. Perhaps you don't know that you have this serious trouble which often causes apoplexy and unexpected death, but if you suffer dizzy spells, nervousness, hot flashes, are nervous, moody or don't sleep well, your blood pressure is undoubtedly higher than it ought to be even if you don't realize it.

Norma, the prescription of a Buffalo physician, reduces high blood pressure, then all the ailments caused by this abnormal and dangerous condition quickly disappear. Dr. W. J. Wilson, Judge & Delph, Earle and Johnson Bros. Drug Stores and reliable druggists everywhere have a big demand for Norma—it has helped thousands and should do the same for you. Be sure to ask for Norma, as this is purely vegetable and guaranteed to contain nothing harmful.

SEES BENEFIT TO PUBLIC FROM AERONAUTICAL EXHIBITS

R. W. Cram, Official of National Aeronautic Association, Here to Attend Air Races.

Ralph W. Cram of Davenport, Ia., vice president and governor of the Seventh District of the National Aeronautic Association, is in St. Louis to attend the first annual convention of the association, which opens Monday in connection with the Aero Congress.

Cram stressed the benefit to be derived by the public from the $5,000,000 aeronautical exhibition in conjunction with the air races next week.

"The public must be educated in aeronautics," Cram said. "Our nation must protect itself in the air, and air services and air industries are necessities. The National Aeronautic Association gives every citizen an opportunity to promote aviation in both peace and war, and, therefore, the opportunity to promote national prosperity and safety. It is the link between the 'air booster' and the aviator and builder."

The Seventh District includes Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

A chapter of the National Association is being formed here, and Cram expressed the hope that the required 100 members would be obtained during the meet in order that a charter may be granted. Cram said he expected a rearrangement of the districts at the coming convention. He is editor of the Davenport Democrat.

INVENTIVE GENIUS MAKES CALOMEL DELIGHTFUL

Most Valuable of Drugs, Now Purified and Refined From Its Nausea and Danger—"Calotabs" the Name.

The medicinal virtues of calomel are in no way connected with its unappealing and dangerous qualities, as is proven by the fact that the perfected calomel tablet, called Calotabs, is free from objectionable effects yet retains all of the liver-cleansing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel. For biliousness, constipation and indigestion, and wherever calomel was essential, the new de-nauseated calomel tablet is a practically perfect remedy.

To inspire public confidence in their discovery the manufacturers have authorized druggists everywhere to refund the price if the customer is not "perfectly delighted" with Calotabs. Sold only in trade-marked packages. Prices ten cents and thirty-five cents. One tablet at bedtime, with a swallow of water, that's all. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. You wake up in the morning with a clean liver, feeling fine, and a hearty appetite. Eat what you please—no danger.

MILLIONAIRE NAMED IN WHISKY 'MILKING' CASE

Prohibition Agents Go East to Interview Man Mentioned in Inquiry.

Investigation of the "milking" of 892 barrels of whisky in the Jack Daniel bonded warehouse at 3960 Duncan avenue took a new turn today, general prohibition agents being on their way East to interview a millionaire said to have been involved in the "milking."

This phase of the case developed yesterday at the hearing conducted by Assistant United States Attorney Blesse, during which officers and employees of two banks and a surety bonding company were examined. At the hearing of the identity of the persons who bought the whisky from Lem Motlow, the Tennessee distiller, was disclosed, as has been told, the purchasers paid $122,000 for about 45,000 gallons of whisky, or nearly $3 a gallon, when the same could have been purchased on the open market at $1 a gallon. The Eastern millionaire is said to have been connected with other deals in which whisky has been surreptitiously removed from bonded warehouses. Officers of the Southern Surety Co., which provided a $50,000 bond insuring payment of the Government tax of $2.20 a gallon in the event the whisky was removed from the Daniel warehouse, told the Assistant United States Attorney that no collateral was placed by the men who obtained the bond. Collector of Internal Revenue Hellmich, at which instance the investigation is being conducted, declined to discuss the case today.

SPRINGFIELD (MO.) DOCTOR ACCUSED AS 'DOPE RING' HEAD
Arrests Made by Department of Justice Operatives After Several Weeks of Investigation.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 25.—Disclosures have been made here by Department of Justice operatives, following an investigation which lasted several weeks and resulted in the arrest of Dr. W. R. Harmon of this city, alleged by the agents to be the head of one of the largest "dope rings" in the Middle West.

The Government officers worked in Springfield for six weeks, using marked bills to obtain evidence against members of the gang. Six arrests had been made up to last night and others, it is said, will be made today.

The peddlers made enormous profits, officers say, morphine having been sold at a profit of 300 per cent. Dr. Harmon, who has been prominent in local reform movements, is alleged by the Government agents, to have made frequent trips to Oklahoma to relay the drugs to Springfield, where it was distributed to "peddlers."

Harmon will be tried at the October term of Federal Court. He was released on $15,000 bond.

Chicago Formidable This Year In Race for Big Ten Football Honors, Eastern Critic Says

Nucleus of Strong Line and Four Fine Backs Assure Stag a Great Eleven—Big Teams Get Into Action Tomorrow, and Favorites Are All Expected to Win Their Games.

By Lawrence Perry.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—In the early stages of the football season which starts quite generally tomorrow there will be more general interest than usual this year because of the fact that the world's series, in all probability, will again be an all-New York affair.

Of course, the baseball games will be followed throughout the country, but they will not offer football the same competition as if the big series were between teams of different sections.

One of the big three elevens will go into action tomorrow, but several of the Western Conference teams, practically all of the important Eastern outfits and a few Pacific Coast elevens will get under way.

Notably will occur the first inter-sectional game, Army vs. Tennessee, at West Point. The Volunteers are expected to be stronger than usual this season, and the Cadets may find their initial contest developing into a valuable test.

Football has come to be a pretty exact sport. So much so that where a critic has had opportunity of studying rival teams or is in possession of reliable information should be able to give a percentage of winners in the various important games of the season.

Easy Picking Tomorrow.
Dope, of course, often goes wrong, and always will so long as sport is sport; that is one of the fascinating things about any competitive game. Tomorrow's selections look to be easier than will be the case when the leading teams begin to take on opponents nearer their own class. But one never can tell when the little fellow "loaded for bear" will topple over some Goliath of the gridiron. But that is all in the game these days. Following are Saturday's important games and the writer's views concerning the outcome:

GAMES
Army-Tennessee
Columbia-Colombia
Rutgers-Penn. M. C.
Illinois-St. Mary's
Chicago-Wich. Aggies
Syracuse-Hobart
Iowa-Okla. Aggies
Nebraska-Hennepine
Iowa-Poly
Notre Dame-Kalamazoo

WINNERS

MEADOWBROOK TEAM BEATS BRITISH POLOISTS

By the Associated Press.
WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The Meadowbrook Polo team advanced in the Waterbury cup contest by defeating the British army four in an extra chukker match, 10 to 9.

Lissen, Misto' Wills.
OUT on the Western rim of the continent, Jack Dempsey is telling the crowd:

"No chance, I'll never fight Harry Wills."

Once before Jack said this. That was at Saratoga where he was training for Phipps. Wills had sought legal recourse to compel Dempsey to fight.

The reiteration shows that Manager Jack Kearns' denial of Jack's decision was merely diplomatic and that the Dempsey camp at heart has settled the question for good.

Dempsey will NOT fight Wills. He's just as well, perhaps, although it seems most unfair. But when have champions been fair, especially to dangerous eligibles?

Some Season.
LAST year about this date the fans were still hopeful of one pennant, and chattering about two of them for the following (this) season.

Yes, we have no pennants. Furthermore we have no stars. Accidents and suspensions, coupled with bad fortune in other ways have deprived both clubs of their punch. Today the three most valuable players in the city, Hornsby, Sisler and Shocker, are out of the game and the morale of both clubs is threatened.

Hope for next year there is little because Hornsby and Shocker are now involved in club differences that threaten to make them useless to their teams, while Sisler's eyes are still a question.

Few cities in baseball can point to harder luck. About the only city we can think of that fared worse was Boston. That occurred when they wished Harry Frazee on the town as the Red Sox owner.

NINE KNOCKOUTS IN 13 BOUTS FEATURE AMATEUR SHOW AT S. BROADWAY

Nine knockouts in 13 bouts featured the amateur boxing show held last night at the South Broadway A. C. The quickest contest was that between Bob Fuller and Louis Rosche. Fuller's first punch ended the proceedings.

The results:
Eddie Richardson (unattached) defeated Vic Constantino (Business Men's A. C.) three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 100 pounds.

Bruno Klossner (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Kenneth Bess (unattached), three rounds, referee's decision. Weight, 100 pounds.

Charley Klein (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Richard Short (unattached), knockout, first round. Weight, 115 pounds.

Paul Lang (Lafayette A. C.) defeated Ted Rupp (unattached), knockout, first round. Weight, 115 pounds.

Eddie Goldberg (unattached) defeated Joe Puchs (Business Men's A. C.) three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 105 pounds.

Jimmy Leary (unattached) defeated Herman Grossman (South Broadway A. C.), knockout, third round. Weight, 130 pounds.

Russell Hemmingsway (Business Men's A. C.) defeated Louis Wille (South Broadway A. C.) three rounds, judges' decision. Weight, 115 pounds.

Josephine (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Jack Maston (National A. A. C.) knockout, first round. Weight, 130 pounds.

Gus Lorber (Lafayette A. C.) defeated Alex. Grossman (South Broadway A. C.) knockout, second round. Weight, 135 pounds.

Roy Roscher (Bessie A. C.) defeated Ernest Shindell (Business Men's A. C.) knockout, first round. Weight, 125 pounds.

Bob Fuller (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Louis Rosche (Suburban A. C.), knockout, first round. Weight, 145 pounds.

Jack Horner (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Sam Schumann (South Broadway A. C.), knockout, second round. Weight, 118 pounds.

Jimmy McCarthy (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Kermit Hart (unattached), knockout, second round. Weight, 135 pounds.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Babe Out of Luck.

BABE RUTH writes thanking the members of the American League Trophy Commission for the unanimous vote by which he was awarded the title of "most valuable player" in the American League. Babe's letter reads:

"Dear Mr. Wray: As yours is the home of George Sisler, who I think was the most valuable all-round player of ANY year, I especially appreciate your vote for me this year."

It was no easy job in my case, and I think you know that. I will do my best in the future to prove that you have made no mistake.

"Sincerely,
"BABE RUTH.

Babe's thanks are superfluous, as it was obvious that the trophy commission could not possibly name any other player in the league and he just.

Rule Is Unjust.

As for the "future" to which the Babe refers, so far as his selection again as the "most valuable player" is concerned, "they ain't goin' to be no future."

That is, unless the commission sees fit to change the rule which prevents any player from holding the prize more than once. Men like Sisler and Ruth, if able to maintain supremacy from time to time, surely are entitled to have such merit recognized.

Again, after the first half dozen genuinely outstanding players have been chosen, the choices left will be secondary and the title given them just a joke.

With Sisler and Ruth now stymied, and with great players like Cobb and Speaker barred because of a rule prohibiting managers from participating, the four greatest players of the day are already out of the running.

Babe and George and Ty and Tris are, therefore, charter members of the Out-of-Luck Club—unless the commission experiences a change of majority view.

Hornsby Snarl Will Be Ironed Out, Cards' President Believes

Present Wrangle Over Suspension and Rogers' Threat to Decline to Play Another Game While Rickey Runs the Club Mere Angry Talk, Sam Bredon Thinks.

By Joseph F. Holland.

Rogers Hornsby, suspended star of the Cardinals, will remain idle throughout the next season, in so far as the Cardinals are concerned, if he declined to play for Branch Rickey, President Sam Bredon of the Cardinals said today. He said that he was not disposed to take seriously the assertion of the star that he "would not play another game with the Cardinals as long as Rickey managed the team."

"If Hornsby assumes the attitude of being to trade me, is attempting to bring public opinion around to the point where the deal would excite no adverse comment."

"I'm Just a Player."
Rickey has charged that I attempted to run his ball team. That is not true. I am employed as a player and that is all I intend to do. People who know me, know that I have no desire to be a manager. I am just 26 years old. I have a long playing career ahead of me.

"I have never desired to run Rickey's business for him. He knows what he wants and I have always followed his directions to the letter."

"The case is too plain to need further talk about it. The club wants to trade me and it is preparing the way. I am sorry if they want me to go, but a baseball player has no hand in his affairs. He must go to the team that buys him. I will simply await developments."

The Hornsby situation has become virtually untenable. The player is convinced that his employers have placed him in a false light and the employers are just as straight forward in their statement that discipline was necessary and that Hornsby will never be traded.

Team Needs Hornsby.

"The Cardinals club POSITIVELY will not trade him. I can imagine no offer that any other club would make that we would consider for a moment. Hornsby is the keystone of our team, and if we are ever to have a winner here, he is the man about whom we must build. That is final and whether he refuses to play or not, there will be no relenting."

"I regret that it was necessary to fine him. I disliked very much to take that extreme action, but it was an absolute necessity. Suppose every player had the right to come to the manager and say that he would not play on this day or that. Wouldn't baseball collapse? Well, wouldn't the Cardinals collapse? Well, wouldn't the Cardinals collapse? Well, wouldn't the Cardinals collapse?"

"Hornsby is the highest salaried player in the National League. People come out to see him and the Cardinal club at its best. He owes it not alone to the Cardinal club, but to himself, to give us his best and unstinted effort at all times."

Must Play With Cards, or Nowhere.
"That is the extent of my view of the matter now. The suspension will stand and the fine will stand. And Hornsby will not be traded under any conditions. If he declines to play with St. Louis next year, he will not play ANY place in organized baseball."

Hornsby's View.
Hornsby's attitude in the matter is directly opposed to the stand taken by Bredon. He believes that the club suspended him in order to present him to the public in the guise of a temperamental star, not subject to authority and with a design to break the morale of the club.

"That is not true," Hornsby said. "I have always given my best efforts because the people of St. Louis have been wonderful to me. I would rather play here than any place else and I mean that as honestly and sincerely as anything I have ever said in my life. But I am convinced that the club is taking this course for the avowed purpose of bringing the public mind to a point where it will regard me as a trouble-maker and would view my departure from St. Louis as good riddance."

"I am not the least in sympathy with tactics of that kind. If they do not want me, why is it necessary to lay all this foundation for getting rid of me? I believe the public will give me the same consideration that it has in the past and a fair view of this situation can bring no other conclusion than that the club, anyway."

Meusel and Pipp Hurt, May Not Be Able to Play in World's Series

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The Yankees won a Pyrrhic victory yesterday. They invaded Boston on their last visit of the year to meet the team which, in former seasons, has given them a lot of trouble and lost the services of two of their batting stars—Walter Pipp and Bob Meusel.

They won the game, 8 to 3, but if the injuries suffered to the two stars turn out to be as serious as they seemed last night, all the "dope" for the world's series will have to be recast, for the two men who have been batting Babe Ruth around the bases during the season are nursing very lame legs.

Pipp strained his ankle when alighting from the train which brought the champions here yesterday, and didn't get in the game at all.

Meusel scored from first base on a single by Schang in the eighth, but the stunt cost him dearly. He made a long slide to the plate to complete his great dash and was carried from the field. He injured his left leg in his slide. X-ray photos of his injury and that of Pipp were taken last night.

The Hornsby situation has become virtually untenable. The player is convinced that his employers have placed him in a false light and the employers are just as straight forward in their statement that discipline was necessary and that Hornsby will never be traded.

MOVING A SEVEN-STORY BUILDING

As part of the work incident to the enlargement of the terminal facilities of the Illinois Central Railroad in Chicago, it was found necessary to move a seven-story office building belonging to the company. The structure, which is of brick, is estimated to weigh 8000 tons. It is to be moved 90 feet south and one foot west. The work is now under way.

Riches and Their Worth

By Winifred Black

He died in Texas the other day, the man who was always telling such wonderful stories about Alaska and how he used to drive his team of dogs over the snow and hear the Northern Lights crackling like a whole barrel of firecrackers, and watch the moon hanging there in the sky like a great silver lantern illuminating a world of white spaces and glittering fields.

He loved to talk about the long Arctic nights and the Indians, and the polar bears and baby seals and the penguins he had seen.

Gold strikes, too—these he told of—and all the young men in the little town where he lived listened to him with a catch in their breath and thought how lucky he was to have seen the world and the wonders of it while they stayed at home down in Texas and rode the range and herded cattle of sold so many yards of so much material from behind little counters in little shops or added up columns of figures in some of the little banks.

"There's nothing like the North," he used to say—the man who had been to Alaska and the Antarctic. "There's a spell about it that holds you till you die." And it must be true what he said, for to the very day of his death he talked about the Frozen North and said he wanted to go back there, and he asked almost with his last breath that he be buried in the fur robes he wore in the North.

And what he asked was granted to him. They wrapped his body in a great coat of Russian sable and on his quiet feet they put his great, fur-lined boots and around him and over the coat and over the boots they wrapped an enormous fur cape of sable—and then they buried him, and there he lies, or what is left of him, wrapped in furs that could be sold for something like $40,000, and nobody is the better for them—not one whit.

The Joys He Missed.

Poor fellow! How feeble was his imagination—

how dull was his idea of pleasure! What a lot of fun he missed—he and his fur boots and his cape and coat of sable. Just think of the good time he could have had planning what to do with the money that could have come from the sale of those furs.

Was there no old friend who had seen better days that he would have liked to remember?

Where's the crows who sped across the snow with him behind the leaping dogs—there in the low sleigh heaped with furs, under the cold moon in the sparkling sky? Old and poor and lonely, perhaps—keeping his life in some public institution, maybe, or living upon cold charity of distant relatives who wish he had stayed in Alaska and died there.

What joy it would have been to have those furs sold and the money sent to such an old friend as that! How it would have warmed the chilling heart even of a dying man to think of such a thing.

Was there no old sweetheart somewhere—now no longer young?

Few men live and die without the image of some boyhood darling in their hearts.

Married, perhaps, and middle-aged and tired and a little disillusioned—think of what $40,000 might have meant to her!

And once, perhaps, this man who was wrapped so close in his rich furs thought that he would suffer any pain to give that sweetheart one hour of joyous happiness.

He Didn't Know.

And the children that money would have saved from slow starvation!

The babies that could have been fed and nourished with that $40,000!

Poor man! He didn't quite know how to live—or how to die, did he?

Money and furs, and diamonds and pearls—what glorious things they are when you know what to do with them!

FROM NOW ON

By FRANK L. PACKARD.
A CONTINUED STORY

For an instant Bookie Skarvan stood there without movement, the little eyes dilating, the white face turning ashen and gray, and then great beads of sweat sprang out upon his forehead—and a scream of abject terror pealed through the room.

"Go away!" screamed Bookie Skarvan. "You're dead! Go away! Go back to hell where you belong!" His hands clawed out in front of him. "Do you hear? You're dead—dead! Go away! Curse you, damn you—go away!"

Dave Henderson spoke through closed teeth:

"You ought to be satisfied, then—Bookie. You've wanted me dead for quite a while—for five years, haven't you?"

There was no answer.

Dave Henderson's eyes automatically swept around the now lighted room. Yes, that was Dago George there on the floor near the bed, lying on the side of his face, with a hideous gash across his head.

The man was dead, of course; he couldn't be anything else. But anyway, Dago George was as something apart, an extraneous thing. There was only one thing in the world, one thing that held mind and soul and body in a thrall of wild, seething, remorseless passion—that maulin, groveling thing there, whose clawing hands had found the end of the desk, and who hung there with curious limpness, as though, because the knees sagged, the weight of his body was supported by his arms alone—that thing whose lips, evidently trying to form words, jerked up and down like flaps of flesh from which all nerve control had gone.

"Maybe you didn't know that I knew it was you who were back of that attempt to murder me that night—five years ago," Dave Henderson thrust the flashlight into his pocket, and took a step forward. "Well, you know it now!"

A sweat bead trickled down the fat, working face—and lost itself in a fold of flabby flesh.

"No!" Bookie Skarvan found his tongue. "No! Honest to God, Dave!" he whined. "It was Baldy."

"Don't lie! I know!" There was a cold deadliness in Dave Henderson's tones. "Stand away from the desk a little, so that I can get a look at that telephone on the floor! I don't want any witness to what's going to happen here, and a telephone with the receiver off—"

"My God!" Bookie Skarvan cried out wildly. "What are you going to do?"

"Yes, I guess it's out of commission," Dave Henderson's voice seemed utterly detached; he seemed utterly to ignore the other for a moment, as he looked at the broken instrument.

Bookie Skarvan, in an access of fear, mopped at his wet face, and his little red-rimmed eyes, like the eyes of a cornered rat, darted swift, frantic glances in all directions around the room.

"Dave, do you hear!" Bookie Skarvan's voice rose thin and squealing. "Why don't you answer? Do you hear? What—what are you going to do?"

"It's queer, kind of queer, to find you here, Bookie," said Dave Henderson evenly. "I guess there's a God—Bookie. How did you get here—from San Francisco?"

Bookie Skarvan licked at his dry lips, and covered back from the revolver that was suddenly outflung in Dave Henderson's hand.

"I—I followed the girl. I thought you'd opened up to the old man, and he'd bumped you off with that bomb to get the stuff for himself. I was sure of it when he died, and she beat it for here."

"And tonight?" Dave Henderson's voice was rasping now.

"I got the room opposite here," Bookie Skarvan gulped heavily; his eyes were fixed, staring now, as though fascinated by the revolver muzzle. "She came downstairs. I followed her, but I don't know where she went to. I saw the package go into the safe. I could see through the fanlight over the door. I saw him"—Bookie Skarvan's hand jerked out toward the huddled form on the floor—"I saw him put it there."

Mechanically, Dave Henderson's eyes followed the gesture—and narrowed for an instant in a puzzled, startled way. Had that dead man there moved? The body seemed slightly nearer to the head of the bed! Fancy! Imagination! He hadn't marked the exact position of the body to begin with, and it was still huddled, still inert, still in the same sprawled, contorted position. His eyes reverted to Bookie Skarvan.

"You had a man in here with you at work on that safe, a man you called Maggot, and you sent him, with that dirty brand of trickery of yours, to bring back someone you called Cunny the Scorpion, with the idea that instead of finding you and the money here—they would find the police." There was a twisted, merciless smile on Dave Henderson's lips. "Where did you get into touch with your friends?"

Bookie Skarvan's eyes were roving again, seeking some avenue of escape. It seemed. Dave Henderson laughed shortly, unpleasantly, as he watched the other. There was only the door and the window. But he, Dave Henderson, blocked the way to the door; and the window, as he knew through the not-too-cursory examination he had made of it when he had come down the fire escape with the valves, was equally impassable. It had been in his mind then that perhaps he, himself, might gain entrance to Dago George's room through the window—only the old-fashioned iron shutters, carefully closed and fastened, had barred the way.

"Well!" He flung the word sharply at Bookie Skarvan.

"I—Baldy knew the Scorpion," Bookie Skarvan's fingers wriggled between his collar and his fat neck.

"Baldy gave me a letter to him, and the Scorpion put one over on—that fellow on the floor, and got me a room here upstairs. And when I saw the money going into the safe I beat it for the Scorpion, and got him to give me a borrower, so he got Maggot for me, and—"

PHILOSOPHICAL PHRASINGS

There is a rank of mind as well as of birth.

Early and provident fear is the mother of safety.

Flattery is like friendship in show but not in fruit.

It is a strange desire, to seek power, and to lose liberty.

Give neither counsel nor salt until you are asked for it.

An illogical opinion only requires rope enough to hang itself.

Enthusiasts soon understand each other.

ROLLED FLANK STEAK

ONE pound flank steak, two potatoes (diced), two carrots (diced), two onions (sliced), one turnip (diced), one cup tomatoes, one cup bread crumbs, one tablespoon butter, two teaspoons salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons flour.

Dredge steak with flour, make a dressing of bread crumbs and melted butter, salt, pepper and tomatoes. Spread over steak, roll and tie, sear in fat until well browned. Place vegetables in baking dish. Lay meat roll on top. Add enough water to almost cover meat, cover and bake slowly one and one-half hours, adding more water if necessary.

Iron shutters, carefully closed and fastened, had barred the way.

Heroines of History

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women
What Her Great Courage Won for Mrs. Oliphant.
By MARK STUYVESANT

IT is surprising how many women writers have embarked upon their careers either in an effort to forget some great sorrow, or to support their families when they have suddenly found themselves widows or destitute of any other means of support.

The lives of many of these writers are as absorbing in interest as those of the heroines whose lives are chronicled by them. Among these authors is Margaret Oliphant Wilson, known throughout the English-speaking world with great affection, as "Mrs. Oliphant."

"When I thus began the world anew," I had for all my fortune about a thousand pounds of debts, a small insurance of, I think, two hundred pounds on Frank's life, our furniture laid up in a warehouse, and my own faculties, such as they were, to make our living and pay off our burdens by."

These are the words which Mrs. Oliphant herself used in describing the desperate straits in which she found herself at the death of her husband. She was penniless. She was not a strong woman. She had a large family of small children, several of whom were very delicate and needed the best of care, expensive medicines and constant medical attention.

But Mrs. Oliphant had come from a long line of sturdy ancestors. In her veins flowed the indomitable courage and unconquerable spirit of her Scottish forebears.

She was born in "The Heart of Midlothian" in 1828 and like the famous Sir Walter Scott, who has made that country famous in his beautiful novel bearing the title just quoted, Mrs. Oliphant set out to write of Scottish life. So beautifully did she write and with such charm and warmth did she depict scenes from the land of her birth, that soon she found herself successfully emerging from the great difficulties which had descended upon her with her widowhood.

Although her life was one of great activity and tremendous responsibility and worry—for she had much illness to cope with in her young family—Mrs. Oliphant was never discouraged.

It is said that she often sat down to write with a breaking heart and with her brain almost numbed by anxiety. But realizing what her efforts would mean, she would quickly emerge from her slough of despond, summon her courage and write with vigor and inspiration.

With the publication of "Zaidee," Mrs. Oliphant's name came before the public and she was moderately discussed. But when "Chronicles of Carlingford" was presented to the public, her success was assured. From then on Mrs. Oliphant was able to provide comfortably for her family and her struggles were at an end—after 15 years of effort.

Those who attain any excellence commonly spend life in one pursuit, for excellence is not often gained upon easier terms.

How To Guard Against Contracting of Disease

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

IT used to be believed that some sort of mysterious influence of miasma, a force, a gas or a spirit came from a sick person or from the soil and caused the illness.

Don't you remember how you used to go across the street to keep from passing too close to a house where contagion was? Emanations of contagion were supposed to come in clouds, or to spread in circles. It was believed they reached out to envelop innocent by-standers.

No wonder people grow panicky during epidemics. A good many times, when acting as health officer, I had to hold public meetings to allay the fears of the people. When everybody understands how disease is transmitted there will be more efficient control of disease, because efforts to confine it will be more intelligently supported by the public.

Let us see if we can formulate our knowledge of communicable or contagious diseases:

They are caused by living organisms, commonly known as germs. These organisms are real, tangible things, things which live and move. They can be seen under the microscope and recognized one from another.

Most of these organisms live in human beings. A few germinate in the bodies of lower animals. But all of them live and multiply in living animals.

The only way these organisms which are capable of producing disease, can escape from the body where they live is through the secretions or discharges. Some leave through the urine or perspiration, some through the saliva or other secretions and others through the bowel discharges.

All discharges from the body with infectious or contagious germs are dangerous to the life of the person who comes in contact with them.

Direct physical contact with the neighborhood of a person who is ill will not result in contagion. There must be some means of the discharges to get the contagion agent.

Once I had to deal with a case of contagious disease. Health nurses, who are trained to deal with this matter for a quarter of a century, entered and where scarlet fever was present this would not be good for everybody, a trained nurse will religiously avoid any contaminated object and only a particle of contagion will safely.

You see, the germ of contagion is carried by the nose, mouth or other cavities of the body, rubbed into a broken skin or unless it is picked up with a needle or pin or other accident, there is no contagion.

Disinfectants are used to destroy the germs. Lowered vitality is another which promotes the infection. Cleanliness of the nose, mouth and teeth are the chief means of protection against disease.

Uncrowned Heroes

By Sophie Irene Loeb.

(Copyright, 1932)

A YOUTH stood in a crowd to do honor to one who had won a fight. They pinned a medal on the hero's midst great applause.

A thrill went through the throng as he saluted and smiled. And the youth wished he had had the chance to stand in the place of him Who was paid such homage.

Little did he know That he was the greater hero of the two For he had won a great battle with Fate. Five young lives owed their very existence to him And the mother, she alone knew the struggle that was his.

He had taken the burden of the family On his young shoulders in place of him Who had been called by the Grim Reaper Just at the time when Youth longs to spread its wings.

And join in play and sport. With this hero it was plain duty—a matter of course He knew not he was among the mighty. Another stood there, exalted at the sight Of the golden emblem that stood for valor Yet he, too, had faced the firing line of life To let his brother go forward.

Gave him all, while he stood back And still another, she who had married young And for the sake of children Stood the strain and struggle with a man brute A heroine indeed, yet none had decorated her. The unknown soldiers every day Fighting odds and carrying on the scheme of things Uncrowned, unnamed, unadorned.

Yet heroes all, doing brave deeds without reward And count it all in the day's work. The year, or the lifetime.

Many seem to pass on from youth to decrepitude without any reflection on the end of life.

Once I had to deal with the community because of Health nurses, without costume, entered and left where scarlet fever raged, this would not be good for everybody, a trained nurse will religiously avoid handling contaminated object and any particle of secretion, this safely.

You see, the present idea of contagion is carried by discharges and not by inanimate objects like clothing or playthings. Of course contact with the nose, mouth or throat of a well person. ## THE HOME KITCHEN

By JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON

The Authority on Home Cooking

EARLY in the fall is the time to eat ducks. Green ducks are supposed to be the full-grown goslings and the prime choice among ducks if they have been celery and vegetable fed. The flesh is tender and white and the flavor is excellent.

In choosing ducks, select those with thick yellow feet and plump bellies. Cut off the heads and necks to make a French breast, remove the pinions to the first joint, clean them properly, wash them carefully and dry them with a soft cloth. The bird is then ready to stuff.

The old-fashioned sage and onion stuffing is always popular. Add a cupful and a half of fine crumbs to salt, pepper, a teaspoonful of sifted sage, a half cupful of seeded raisins, and a finely-minced large onion that has been sautéed in a heaping tablespoonful of butter until it has cooked slightly but not browned. Add to these ingredients a tablespoonful of finely-minced celery leaves and two tablespoonfuls of dry apple sauce.

Stuff the duck and truss it as usual. Roast it about one hour, basting it frequently the first part of the time, then let it brown lightly. A few minutes before it is done, dredge it with a little flour over the top to plump the breast. The younger the bird, the more quickly it will cook, so watch it carefully. Apple sauce, stewed gooseberries or mint jelly goes with the duck and green peas.

Duck en Casserole.
Prepare the duck as already directed, then cut it into joints. Dip each joint into melted butter and onion juice and lay it in a buttered casserole that has been wiped with a bud of garlic. Dust the duck with flour. Put in a cupful of green peas, a cupful of potato balls, a cupful of button onions and a cupful of diced celery. Turn over it enough rich stock to cover it. Cook the duck in a medium oven three-quarters of an hour. Serve it in the same dish and serve with it, fried, sliced apples.

Japanese Duck.
Prepare a duck for roasting but do not stuff it. Roast the bird as usual, then let it cool slightly. Strip the meat from the bones and cut it up in convenient pieces. Mix the meat with a drained can of shredded pineapple. Add half a minced pepper to a half cupful of peanut butter and thin the mixture with the juice of an onion and one part of olive oil to two parts of vinegar. Work this dressing smooth, then mix it with the duck and reheat, stirring well to mix. About a quarter cupful of oil to a small cupful of vinegar will be right for the dressing. When hot, turn the mixture into a freshly-boiled ring of rice on a hot dish and garnish it with toast sippets and parsley.

Deviled Duck.
Chop the left-over meat from a roasted duck. Add a grated onion a little finely-minced celery and a half pepper, a half cupful of dry apple sauce, pepper, salt, a half cupful of very dry, fine crumbs, a chopped hard-boiled egg, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a tablespoonful of soft butter and the stiffly-beaten white of an egg with about two tablespoonfuls of cream. Line little ramekins with good pie crust. Fill them lightly with the mixture and bake it until the crust is done. Plenty of pepper should be used, but not more than the family like.

STAGE NOTES.

The leaders of an Asiatic expedition in search of prehistoric fossils have brought back with them a setting of eggs of the Dinosaur. The eggs are elliptical, five to ten inches in length. Their age is estimated at 10,000,000 years. This ought to be of interest to some of our hard-boiled actors.

THE TEMPERAMENTAL HOUND-DAWG.

About once in so often some impassioned partisan rises up in Congress or elsewhere and accuses the majority party of the administration or somebody of bribery, corruption, fraud and incompetency, and announces his intention of smoking the scoundrels out. This type of person is especially numerous in presidential years but we have him other years, too.

A few years ago—it was in 1916, I believe—there was a prominent spellbinder on the Republican side who set forth upon his campaigning with the avowed intention of proving that wholesale Democratic stupidity at Washington had practically ruined the country and then, being challenged for facts to back up his accusation, was so shy of actual ammunition that for the moment he could point only to the instance of a petty office-holder, a hold-over from the Taft administration who, in alleged violation of civil service rules, had been ousted from his job to make room for a Wilson man.

The incident reminded a friend of mine down South of a certain gifted hound dog which a certain Kentucky pioneer owned. He said to me:

"The old fellow used to tell me that when his father came out over the Wilderness Trail from North Carolina he brought with him the fastest, the best-bred, the keenest-nosed hound that had ever been seen in the infant settlements beyond the mountains. But the dog suffered from a temperamental defect, which militated against his success.

"At sunrise he would start out on his own hook after deer. He would jump a buck and run him for miles. When the buck was on the point of exhaustion the hound's nostrils would catch the taint in the air where a fox had crossed the trail, and he would instantly decide that, after all, fox was what he had come for; and he would turn aside to pursue the fox.

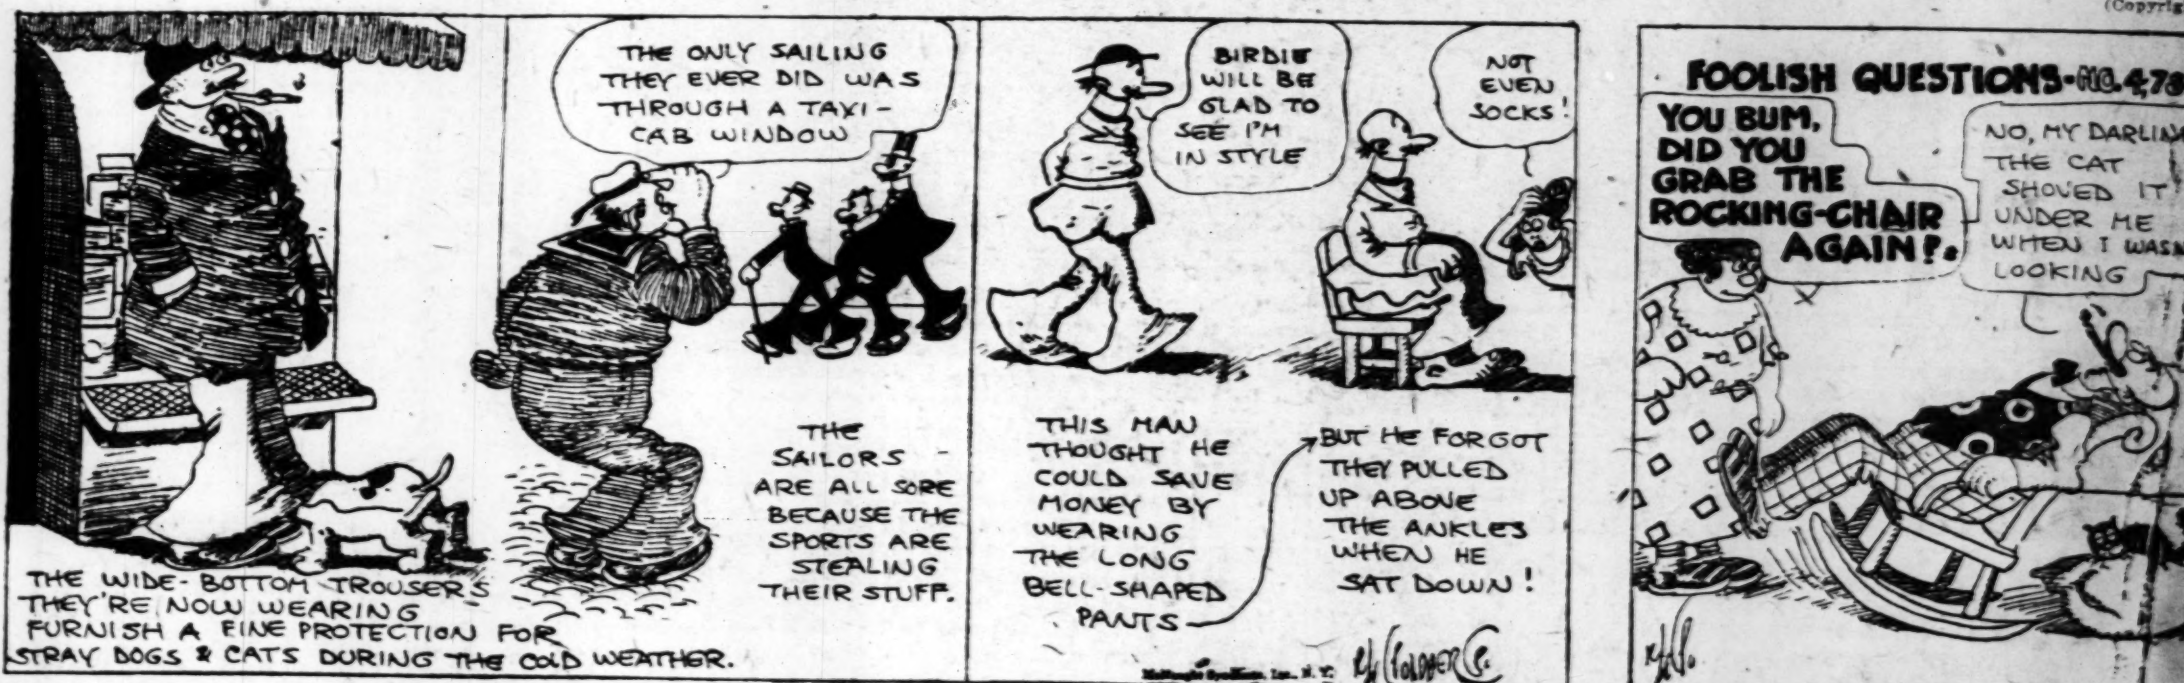

"Perhaps an hour later, when the chase was growing warmer every minute, his keen nose would detect the presence of a rabbit, and he would go after the cottontail, with the inevitable result that by 4 o'clock in the afternoon that hound would be 30 or 40 miles away from home, in a swamp, with a chipmunk tree!"
